celebration of our anniversary to commemorate the fortieth anniversary of our school, we examined our roots and expanded upon them. Hours spent in the library over stacks of retired yearbooks lent the insight we needed to clearly see the school's past and speculate about its future. The 2002 Campus itself existed as a historical manuscript that not only focuses on our year, but on those that have preceded us.

In this book, we have showed present students that their experiences surprisingly mirror the adventures of those that came before them... both teachers and parents alike. Students realized that they could relate with those who once walked the Cavalier hallways as students of the past.

As the pages of this book flew by, so did the fortieth year of Kiski's history. The links to the past came together in a perfect chain, which would continually grow throughout the years of our high school's future. The students of Kiski High would still have tales to tell, either of days long gone or those they hope to see. Regardless, those tales would pursue yet another happy memory behind us, or opportunities ahead.

We've Got Spirit How About You?... Students of the past cheer on their team at an afternoon pep rally. Rhiannon Mondale expressed, "I enjoyed pep rallies when everyone got involved. It created a lot of school spirit." Throughout the year, students certainly experienced a revival of spirit in the gym on pep rally days.

Be True to Your School... Kiski students demonstrate their school spirit in 1965 at a Pep Rally for the men's gymnastic team. Many different sports have come and gone through the years. Senior cheerleader Sara Shirley commented on the similarities between Kiski then and Kiski now, "I really believe that we have more in common with those that came before us than most people think."

The passage of time always remained an inevitable truth of the cosmos. Time weathered nearly all parts of life and molded them to its fancy. Time touched its people, sending them from a vigor of youth to a listlessness of old age. Time took the greatest civilizations and sent them quietly on their way. Occasionally, however, one group made it out of the "time-warp" alive, living in a state of eternal youth and vigor.

The students and faculty of Kiski did just that for forty years. To this day, we still show no signs of stopping.

As times changed, we walked along in stride. When time drew a school year to a close, we bounced back and brought in a fresh group of underclassmen. Even teachers with the longest of tenures managed to remain vibrant and true. We welcomed change, embraced it, and made it a part of our dynamic whole.

Time seemed to have shied away from our school. It realized that we remained an untouchable entity. Regardless of how it passes, we will forever stay young. We shall continue to pursue new horizons as if we have all the time in the world.

We shall continue pursuing life after forty.

- Stacey Gathers

Crazy About Kiski... Buck Smodic, Joe Lodovico, Kurt Lorenz, Angelo Manifest, Anne Cline, Matt Kiebler, Mike Wood, Shane Stefaniak, and Jeff Ruffini show their Cavalier spirit. Dressed in blues and golds, the crew helped to cheer Kiski on to a 28 to 21 victory over previously undefeated Franklin Regional. Ruffini commented, "Most of us went to Dominic Paolo's house to get our faces painted. We went to the game expecting it to be good and hopefully Kiski would come out on top." Holding Franklin back from scoring in the last few seconds of the game, as the buzzer sounded, students from the grandstand flooded the field in support of the Cavalier triumph.

Kiski Area High School opened its doors in 1962. Over its forty year history, thousands of students graduated with countless memories of their high school years spent here. Starting out with only three grades, our high school did not become home to freshmen until 1986. Just as the student body expanded, the school building itself underwent many changes and additions over the years. With renovations ranging from refurbishing the auditorium to adding the swimming pool, Kiski constantly improved upon itself. Mrs. Musselman commented, "Of all the changes made in the past twenty years, the one I feel was most beneficial was the new attendance policy. Students knew where they stood and could not take advantage of the past's more lenient rules."

An innumerable amount of students certainly contributed to Kiski's many successes. These individuals reached new horizons in both academics and athletics. Most importantly, over the last forty years, Kiski positively impacted each and every one of its students' lives. On their final journey through the doors of Kiski High, seniors took with them not only their past, but also their future.

September twenty-first's football game opened with the Cavalier marching band's rendition of "America the Beautiful." As the music played, six chosen senior girls stood eagerly at the sidelines. These individuals proceeded to nervously wait through the game's first half while Kiski battled fiercely against Norwin. The girls then had the honor of entering the field as members of the 2001 Homecoming Court.

The noises coming from the stands lowered to a murmur for the court's introduction. Then came the announcement everyone wanted to hear. Natalie Danka received the crown of the homecoming queen amidst fans' thunderous applause. Natalie later commented, "I was so surprised when I heard my name. I just stood there because I didn't believe I won. I was extremely flattered."

Natalie returned to the sidelines with the rest of the court, whose presence helped to cheer Kiski on to a hard-earned 27-15 victory.

A celebratory Homecoming Dance took place the following day. All who attended the dance and homecoming game will surely hold the excitement of the weekend in their memories for many years to come.

six most changed

Perhaps the most inevitable factor that impacted each and every Kiski life dealt with change. As the senior class looked back on years at Kiski, they could not help but notice how much they had changed, not only as individuals, but also as a whole.

Thinking back on the past six years and reminiscing to their 7th grade year, many classmates underwent many changes - relating both to appearance and personality. Also, without a doubt, the seniors matured in many ways and now view their future endeavors with a broader perspective. "I think that for the most part our class has matured a lot since 7th grade. The cliques have diversified, which I think is a good thing. It's nice that in such a big class, most people do not have problems talking with everyone," commented senior Elizabeth Brooks. Additionally, students moved in and out of the Kiski district, changing the shape of their class every year.

Starting out with a class size of 419 students in 7th grade, only 379 members of the class of 2002 still remain. No matter what, as their lives change, come what may, they shall remain Cavalier friends forever.

mrs. colleen sites

My first thoughts were of shock and disbelief. I fear that this is just the beginning of the horror and sorrow for all of the victims and their families.

josh cable

I think it's a terrible thing! So many people lost family and friends. The people that did this deserve whatever comes their way!

gillian friday

I feel that the attack on America is the most horrible tragedy ever to occur in our country. I also think that these terrible events have brought about a sense of unity across our nation.

dr. stephen vak

It is beyond comprehension to believe that human beings guided by religion are capable of such utter evil! We will never again be able to sleep under an assumed blanket of total security.

Circle of Faith... Students and faculty gather around the flagpole in prayer for the victims and all affected by the September 11th tragedy. Senior Bridget Tweten who organized and led the early morning vigil commented, "Meeting around the flagpole two mornings after the attack allowed people to express their emotions and reflect upon the assault."

patriotism

The unforgettable events of Tuesday, September 11, 2001, shocked and terrified our nation. On this tragic day, terrorists hijacked and crashed a total of four planes into the twin towers of the World Trade Center, the Pentagon, and a field in Somerset County. Many thousands of Americans died as martyrs of American freedom. Mr. Beranty offered, "When I joined the service out of high school, the draft had just ended and the war in Vietnam was winding down, so enlisting was not a real popular choice for young people to make. But I believed at the time, and I still do, that all of us owe some measure of service to our country. Patriotism is a noble thing. It's nothing to be ashamed of."

As a student body, we watched history unfold before our eyes. Due to a flooding of parent phone calls, the administration granted a two-hour early dismissal to students. Additionally, on Friday of that week, many Kiski clubs and organizations held events that showed our unity. The Bible Club sponsored prayer at the flagpole that proudly anchored Mr. Beranty's giant flag. In addition, the student body wore red, white and blue to show their patriotism.

Mrs. Rupert and the choirs also sold patriotic ribbons during homeroom. The choirs donated their proceeds to the American Red Cross. Certainly, the events of September 11th led to a wave of patriotism and unity that swept across Kiski and the rest of the nation.

near trip to oz

On Tuesday, the 3rd of June, 1980, tornadoes ravaged their way through the Kiski Valley. Leaving behind a devastating path of debris, the twisters caused damages that surmounted to millions of dollars.

On campus, the tornadoes only damaged the Arts Building. Workers had to replace the roof above the shops and also repair many floors and ceilings due to water damage.

From the high school, the twisters followed the Serpentine Road into Vandergrift - leaving the stretch of highway closed for days due to downed trees and power lines. In Vandergrift, the whirlwinds destroyed many houses, trees, and businesses, especially on Burns Street.

From Vandergrift, the tornadoes crossed the Kiski River to North Apollo where the most devastation occurred. The twisters completely destroyed the Edgewood Trailer Court. Amazingly, the storms did not cause a single fatality - a true testament that someone watched over the people of the Kiski Valley on that infamous late spring afternoon.

In 1986, the ninth graders no longer attended one of Kiski's three junior highs - Allegheny, Vandergrift, and Washington. Due to lower enrollment numbers, the district commenced a two year plan to merge the three junior highs into one central location.

With plans for the intermediate school well under way, the first freshmen class arrived at the high school - forever changing Kiski Area Senior High School to Kiski Area High School.

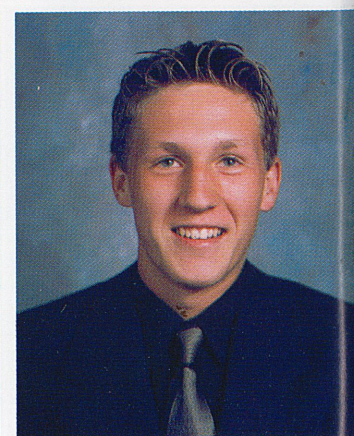

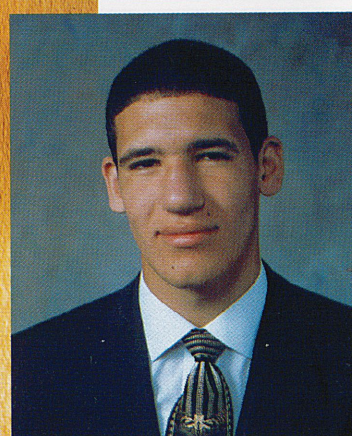

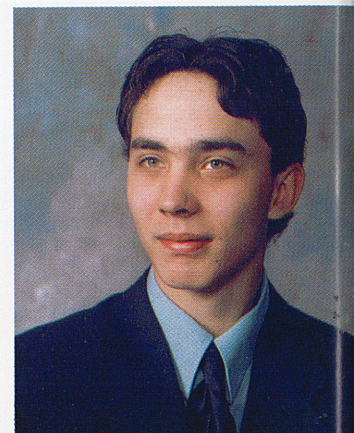

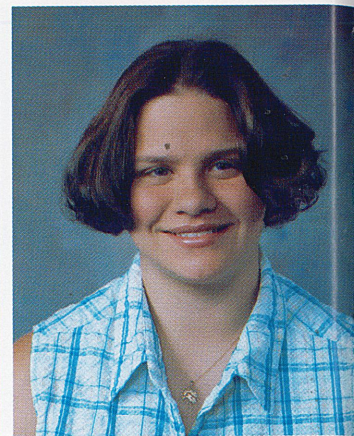

In 1988, Kiski Intermediate School opened and Allegheny, Vandergrift, and Washington Junior Highs all became elementary schools.

A large group of students, identified as Kiski's Pride Club members, are posed in a field. They are arranged in many rows, with some students standing on a low wall in the back. The students are dressed in mid-20th-century attire, including sweaters, skirts, and blouses. The background shows a grassy field and some trees.

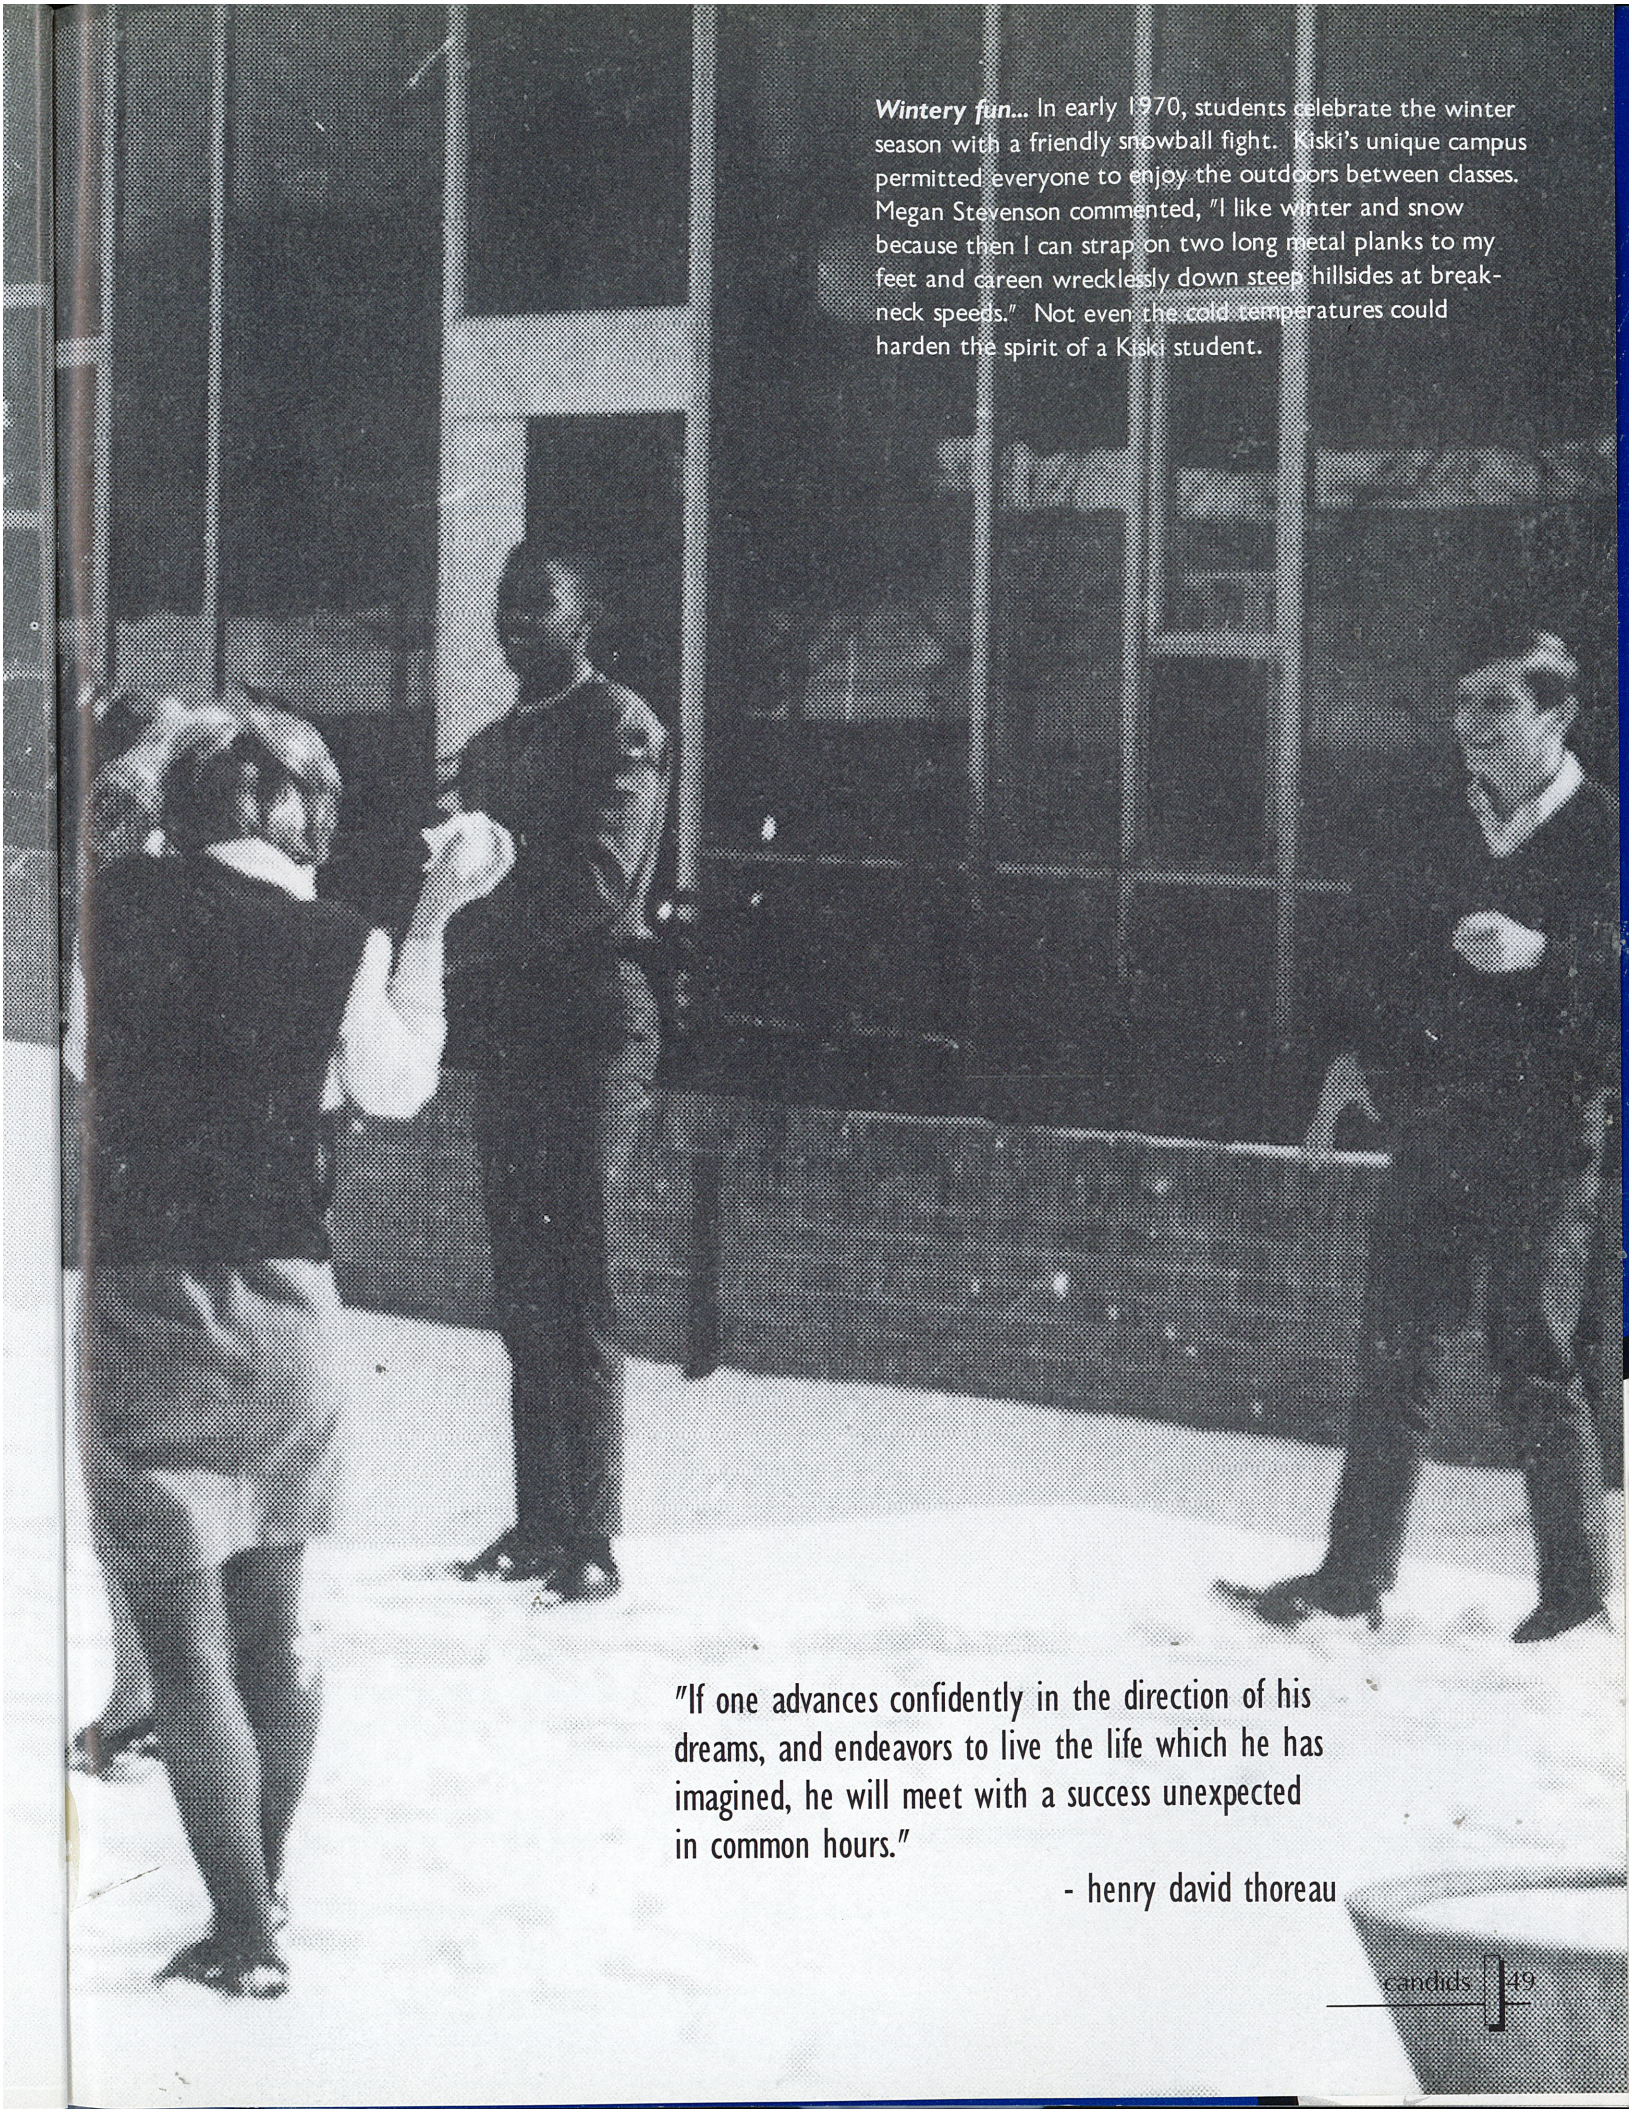

Gimme a K... Students of long ago form their favorite letter. Kiski's Pride Club members all lined up to create the huge K, a past long-standing tradition. Junior Lauren Daley talked about the Kiski Pride Club, "One of my favorite Pride Club activities was painting the windows. It brightened up the school with blue and gold."

"We can chart our future clearly and wisely only when we know the path which has led to the present."

- adlai e. stevenson

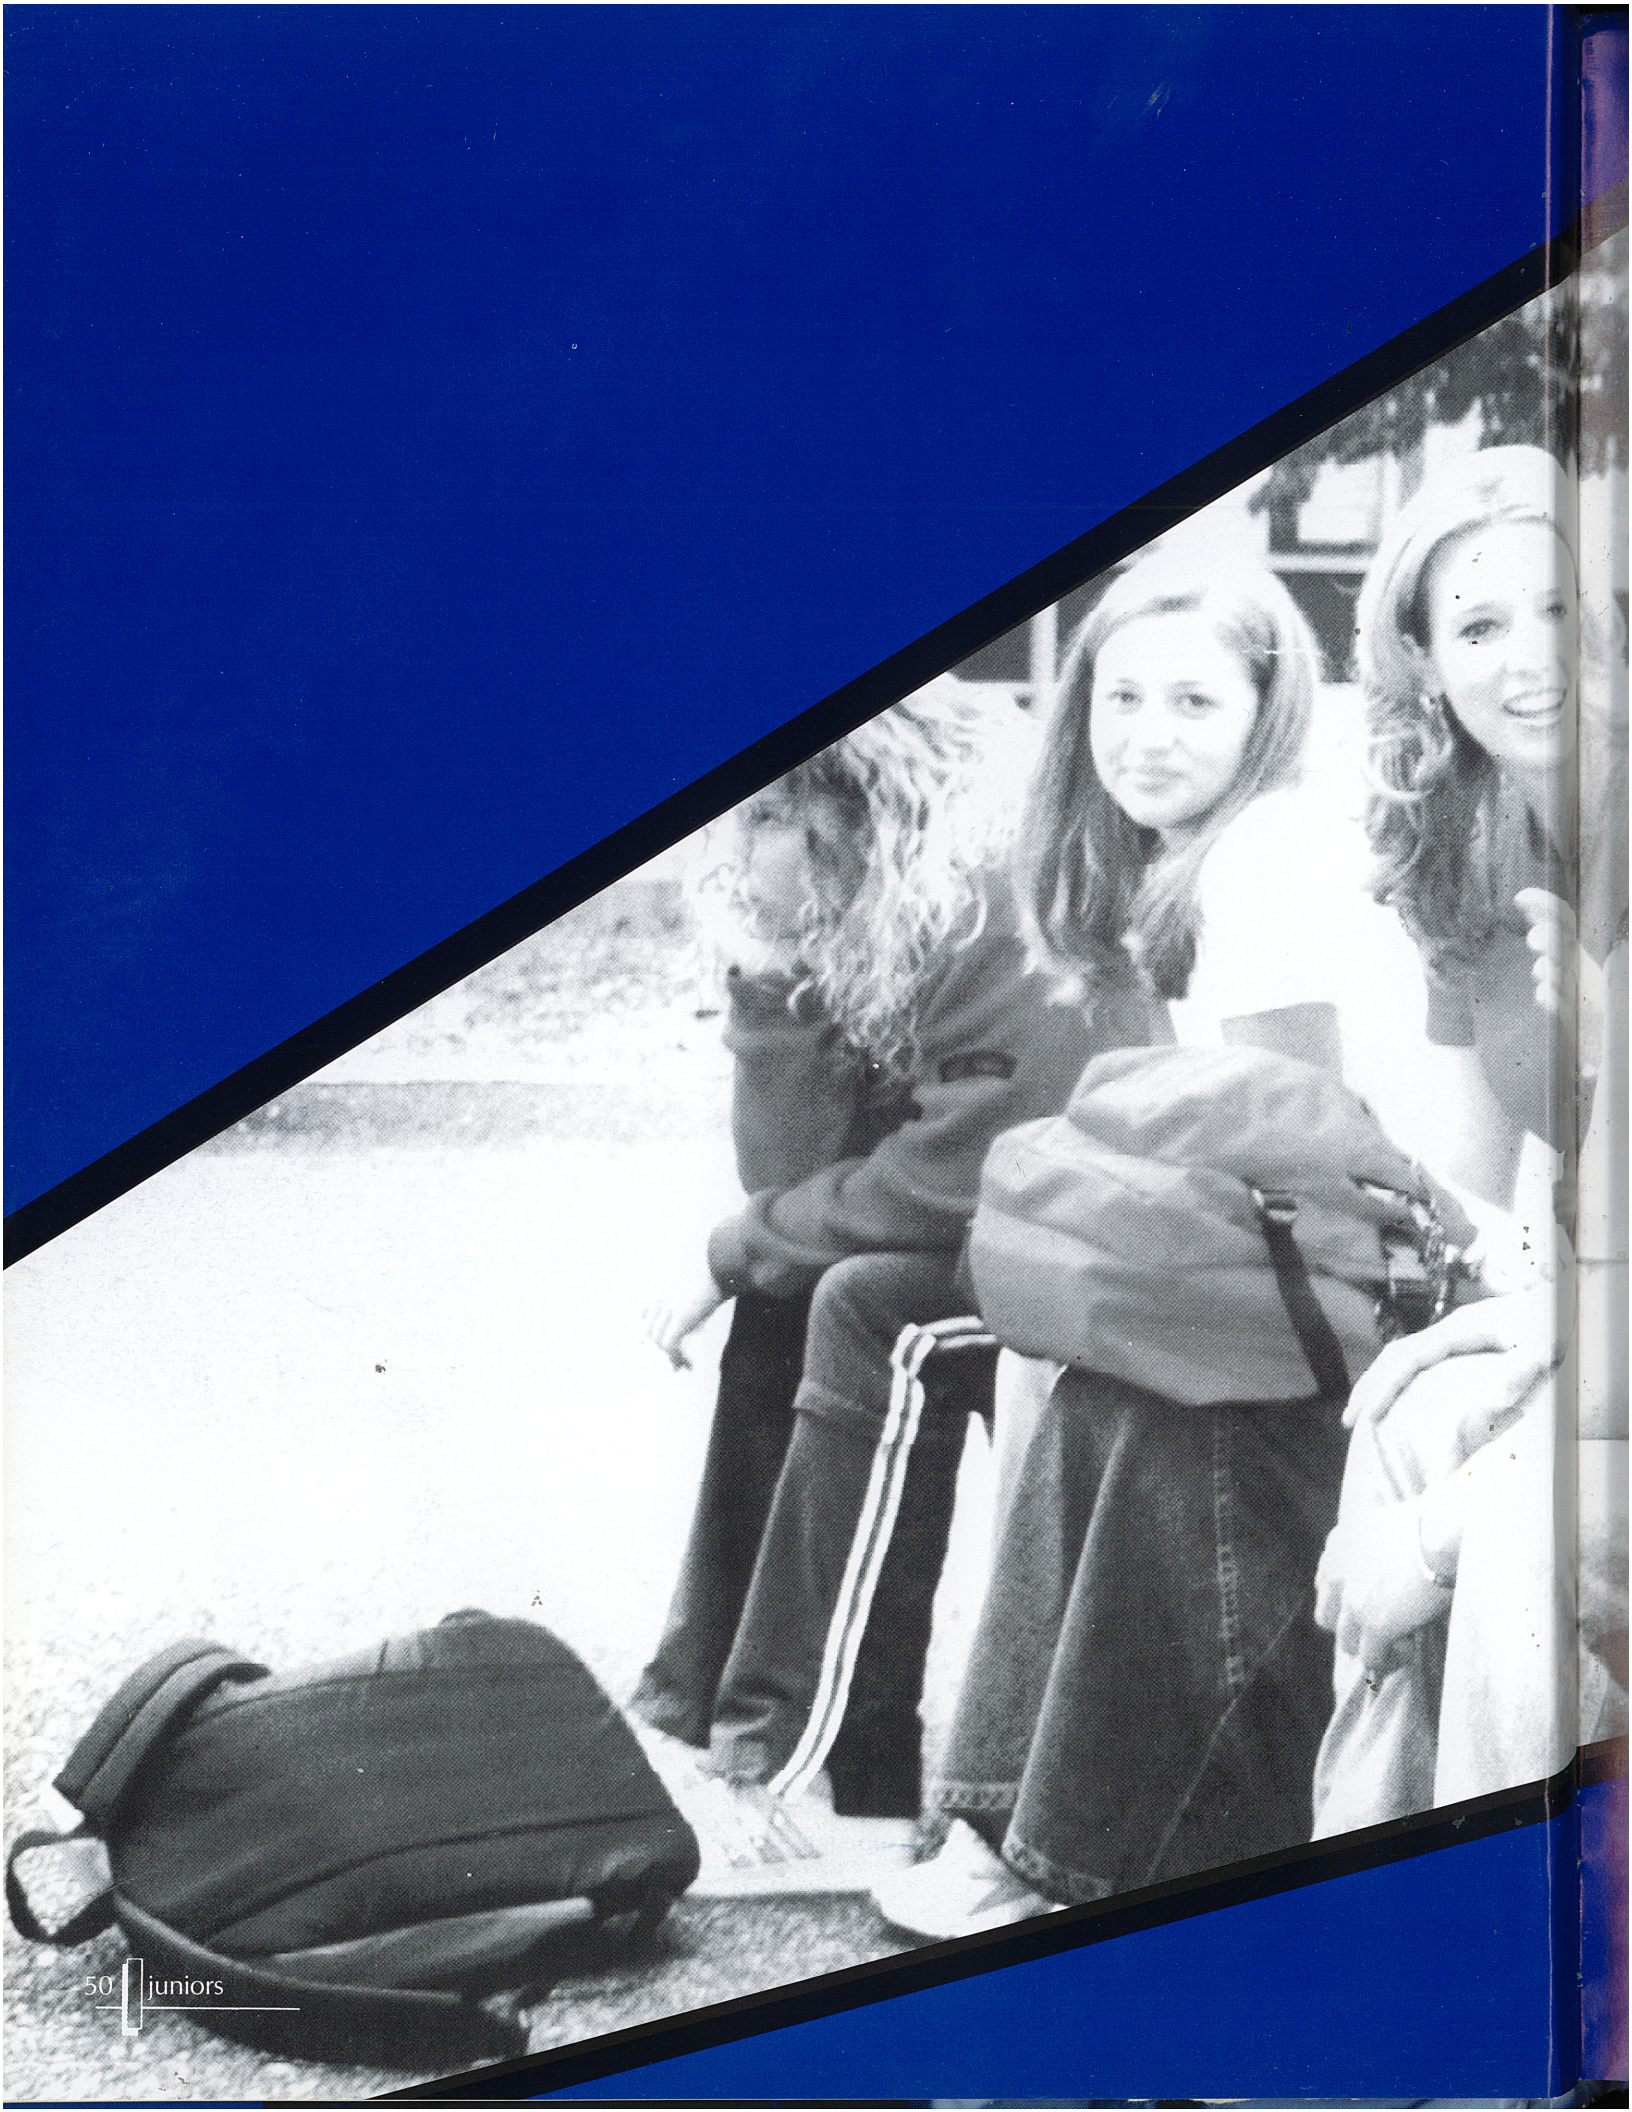

Wintery fun... In early 1970, students celebrate the winter season with a friendly snowball fight. Kiski's unique campus permitted everyone to enjoy the outdoors between classes. Megan Stevenson commented, "I like winter and snow because then I can strap on two long metal planks to my feet and careen wrecklessly down steep hillsides at break-neck speeds." Not even the cold temperatures could harden the spirit of a Kiski student.

"If one advances confidently in the direction of his dreams, and endeavors to live the life which he has imagined, he will meet with a success unexpected in common hours."

pursuing a challenging job

We looked to them for help when needed. They created rules that secured our safety and made the school environment better. These individuals affected every student and teacher by driving forward the decision to create the new three lunch schedule. The members of the administration served as a vital force in keeping the school running smoothly. Mr. Anthony Nicholas, Mr. Larry Steuart, and the new but familiar face of Mr. Scott Koter each ensured that the school functioned properly.

Mr. Koter contributed greatly to the role of vice principal by accepting that chair. He previously occupied the position of Kiski Area's music director. Mr. Koter commented, "I am excited," upon gaining his new role. Senior Ashley Klingensmith agreed that the school benefited from his membership in the administration, and commented, "He is around every corner talking to somebody."

The dedication presented by Mr. Koter, Mr. Steuart, and Mr. Nicholas helped to shape Kiski into a workable and peaceful environment. Each member of the administration put forth tremendous effort toward making this school year into a safe, memorable one.

Career Oriented... Mrs. Balla lends her expertise to Kyle Dempsey in Careers Class. Kyle offered, "Career Class has helped me pick out my career and also helped prepare me for life after college." The guidance counselors always aimed to provide students with every opportunity possible.

In high school, students encountered the most rewarding and challenging years of their lives. Kiski provided a support system that led pupils in their journey to reach a successful destination. Mrs. Carol Balla, Mrs. Shauna Braun-Zukowski, Mr. Dennis Duppsadt, Ms. Denise Maganello, and Mr. Ronald Frederick strove to meet the specific needs of each individual adolescent. Some of the major responsibilities of the guidance counselors included providing academic direction, teaching career classes, and assisting students in dealing with personal problems. Mrs. Balla commented on her job position, "I feel it is very important to make students aware of the impact their high school grades will have on their lives as early as possible."

In addition to their other duties, the counselors spent countless hours constructing, rearranging, and finalizing schedules. Beginning every spring, students received a packet explaining all of the courses available for the following school year. The guidance counselors then held sessions in which students scheduled the classes they wanted to take. After the students scheduled, the counselors then checked over each individual list of courses to ensure that it met both curriculum and graduation requirements. Finally, they entered the schedules into the computer. If a student's classes did not fit due to a scheduling conflict, the counselors then contacted the pupil and reorganized the individual's schedule until it ultimately worked. Through all of their responsibilities and activities, the guidance counselors at Kiski positively influenced each and every one of their students' lives.

On next Secretaries' Day, make sure you thanked the many wonderful women who served the high school in that very position. These ladies did more in one nine-hour workday than most students managed to accomplish in a three-day weekend. Each secretary had a very important job in keeping our school functioning smoothly. Mrs. Peggy Chierici served the guidance office and its occupants while Mrs. Carole Patterson maintained the attendance office and kept track of all students' absences and field trips. Mrs. Susan Nix-Fantuzzo lent her expertise to the athletic office. Lastly but not least, Mrs. Jacque Davis and Miss Suzie Dedich ran the main high school office. Each of these devoted souls served as vital components of their respective departments. By typing papers and handling other tasks, they freed up time for individual department members to accomplish more.

From fielding phone calls to filing papers and from pleasing parents to printing report cards, our secretaries managed to do it all. Even in the depths of all of their responsibilities, the secretaries still managed to have fun at their jobs. A secretary took time out of her busy schedule to comment, "I really enjoy my job here at Kiski. It's fun to be a part of it." Without their daily persistence, paperwork would have surely inundated the school. These dedicated individuals formed the heart of our school. They had the important responsibility of ensuring that things went as they should. At the end of the rainbow of clerical work stood these secretaries who helped to uphold Kiski's fine tradition of excellence.

Creative Writing offered students the chance to display their literary talents. Juniors and seniors who wanted to build upon their writing skills could choose to participate in the semester-long course. Formerly taught by Mr. James Trunzo, the responsibility of teaching the class passed to Mr. Thomas Berzonsky this school year.

The course guided students in the creation of their own works of fiction. Mr. Berzonsky encouraged members of the class to write stories based upon their own original thoughts and perspectives. Pupils went far beyond penning the five-paragraph papers of a typical English class; just a few of the genres they covered in Creative Writing included mystery, fantasy, romance, and horror stories. Senior Jessica Kostelansky commented, "Creative Writing presents a new challenge every day in changing unique thoughts and ideas into interesting and entertaining stories."

Besides stories, members of the class also penned several different forms of poetry and a movie or television script. By consistently sharing their writings with other members of the class, students received valuable feedback on how to improve their stories. Individuals who wanted to see their short stories or poems published could hand them in to the Literary Magazine staff for consideration. Pupils could then purchase a Literary Magazine at the end of the year and have the pleasure of reading and analyzing both their own writings and other students' submissions. For imaginative souls, the Creative Writing course provided a chance to author original works and an opportunity to improve upon their current writing ability.

Taking the Stage...Dr. Pipman captures the spirit of England in a reading from Macbeth. "Reading Shakespeare in English class was greatly interesting. Being British, what entertained me the most was hearing those fake English accents," offered Shazz Bhunnoo, foreign exchange student from Great Britain. Kiski's English curriculum also included other Shakespearean works such as Hamlet, Romeo and Juliet, and Midsummer Night's Dream.

It Makes No Difference...Mrs. Mika explains various concepts in Math Analysis. Student, Danielle DeStefano claimed that "...not a lot of people understand Math Analysis because this was an extra help session." Mrs. Mika always provided time for students outside of the classroom.

Many changes took the mathematics department by storm. Wonderful teachers left, and energetic new teachers replaced them. The educators who slid into retirement included both Mr. Larry Dudzik and Mr. Al Veselicky. Both taught within the district for many, many years. Mr. Veselicky graduated from Kiski and taught here ever since the high school opened forty years ago. Also, Mrs. Kimberly Poleski took a leave of absence giving birth to her second child, Alyssa Kristine, on November 10.

Mr. Zachary Jankowski, Mrs. Lynn Hald, and Mrs. Christa Mika replaced these beloved math souls. Mr. Jankowski and Mrs. Hald began the year as members of the permanent staff, while Mrs. Mika served as a yearlong substitute. All three graduated from Kiski and just could not leave their alma mater. On the addition of permanent faculty, Mathematics Department Head Mr. Toland put it best, "We've lost two great people and gained two different great people."

With returning teachers Mr. Argyros, Mr. Fantaski, Mrs. Gatto, Mrs. Kettering, Mrs. Schaeffer, Mr. Swanson, and Mr. Toland, the mathematics department surely underwent a successful school year. In courses ranging from basic algebra to complex calculus, the faculty managed to cover it all. Determined students who chose to participate in math classes had countless opportunities to flourish under the guidance of their skilled teachers. The experience of the veteran staff combined with the new ideas of first-year teachers to create a uniquely valuable learning experience for their math students.

Social Butterflies...Mr. Lohr discusses various notable moments throughout United States history. Lauren Pangrazi claimed that "Mr. Lohr added excitement to learning by telling stories about his past. His class was fascinating and fun. He has a laid back personality. Basically, he was just nuts." U.S. History I remained the only subject that Mr. Lohr taught this year.

Americans and the world witnessed history in the making on September 11, 2001. As the events unfolded, many people sat glued to the television waiting for the latest news. The nation also watched as the War on Terror progressed as city after city fell in Afghanistan to the opposing forces.

This new War on Terror provided a unique opportunity for students to stay up to date on the latest news. Many annual current events projects in Kiski's social studies classes presented a large amount of news stories dealing with this new war. Mr. Intrieri's U.S. History II Seminar classes constructed bulletin boards to display the latest newspaper and magazine clippings. In addition, Mr. Fassio's World Cultures Seminar classes presented oral current event reports daily. These projects provided an opportunity for students to share news with each other. Stating the value of current events projects, Justin Palmiscno, a student in Mr. Fassio's World Cultures class, said, "The current events presentations kept me informed with the world's events, especially concerning the war in Afghanistan." No matter what made the news on a particular day, whether anthrax or Osama bin Laden, Kiski's students stayed current.

pursuing the new science wing

Plans began to take shape this year concerning the construction design of Kiski's new science wing. The plans included the construction of twelve new classrooms on the second floor of a building expected to house high school administrative offices. The science wing served as just one part of the renovations and expansions to take place in the coming years at the high school. These plans allowed for all science classes to move the wing.

Kiski's science facilities had not seen any major updates since the school's opening. These plans facilitated the implementation and use of new modern equipment and technology, especially in the laboratories. The Advanced Placement (AP) science courses could benefit the most by utilizing the new equipment and technology for these courses' college-level laboratory work. Mr. DeSantis, physics teacher, stated regarding the science wing, "The new wing will have excellent new "state-of-the-art" equipment that will help students to better study and understand science." Students and faculty could expect the new wing to open in the fall of 2003 or 2004 in time for the current freshmen and sophomores to take advantage of its possibilities.

The business department underwent many major modifications in the past forty years. Back in the "stone-age" when Kiski first opened, the department guided students interested in secretarial and office careers. The tools pupils used consisted of typewriters and ditto machines. This year, students benefited from faster, improved computers with newer software to use on them. Due to the increased technology, the Computer Applications course consisted of ninety percent academic students, compared to filling the class with ninety percent business students only a few years ago. Senior April Stefaniak stated, "I have Keyboarding Applications. I took it so that when I get to college, my typing skills won't be rusty. Plus, I've picked up some other useful computer knowledge throughout the year."

The business department's student store serviced the needs of the whole student body. Each morning students had the opportunity to venture into the world of business as they purchased their favorite candy bar at the student store. The department also sponsored the Future Business Leaders of America, where aspiring entrepreneurs could compete in various areas relating to business. For those students dedicated to the business curriculum, Kiski offered the chance to receive the honor of Business Student of the Month. December's student, Natalie Cable, commented, "When I got Business Student of the Month, I was so surprised. I love my business class so I was thrilled." Business Student of the Month, FBLA, the student store, and Computer Applications represented only a few of the many important contributions that the business department sponsored.

pursuing future technology

Over the past decades, technology played an enormous role in keeping our lives running smoothly. Whether using a computer, a stereo, or a CD player, technology constantly affected each and every person's daily lives. Certainly, commonplace inventions such as the television and microwave developed from technological advances. Although these innovations served as necessities in most individuals' lives, students often used these inventions without knowing how the new technologies came into existence.

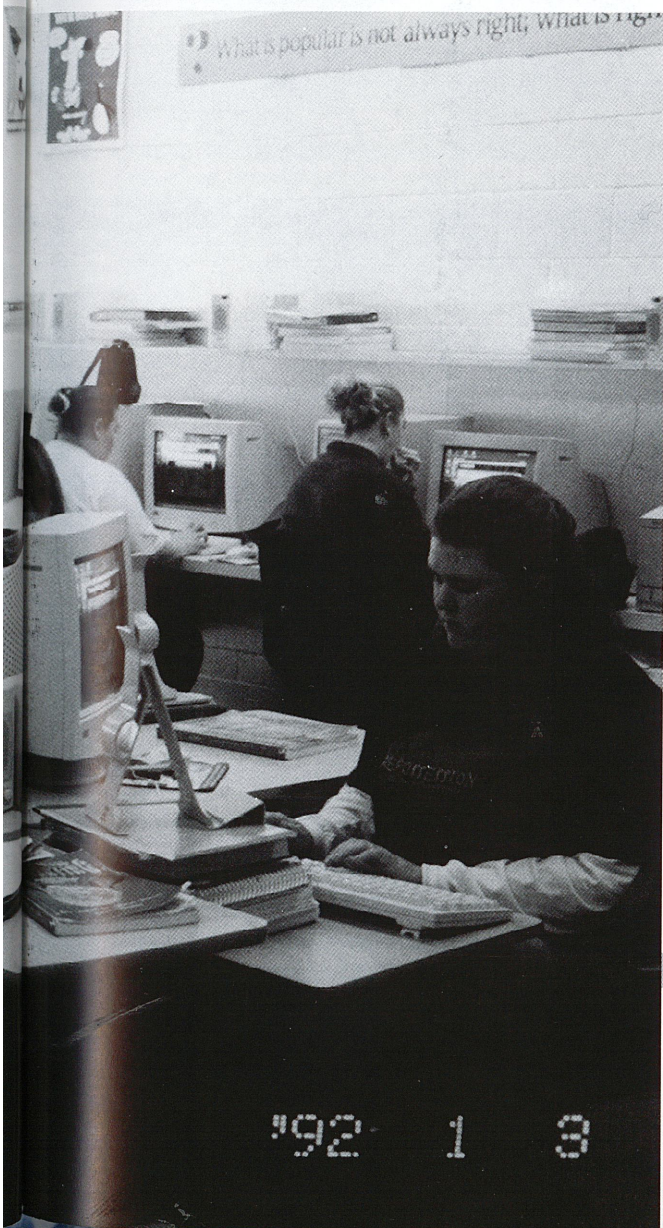

Students who chose to take courses offered in the Kiski Technical Education Department gained a better idea of how exactly these innovations work. Courses like Manufacturing, Trans. Tech, CADD, Structures and Design, and Architecture taught pupils how to design the future, piece by piece. While focusing on the basic processes behind the design, Technical Education classes gave students the foundation to develop their own ideas into actual working products. Future architects and prospective manufacturers surely found the Tech-Ed classes useful and informative.

Technological Education courses provided a break from the traditional memorization and paperwork found in most academic classes. When asked his opinion about the department, junior Ryan Shelkey stated, "Manufacturing was a fun and rewarding course because it gave me a break from the normal 'book' subjects and taught me skills I will undoubtedly use throughout life." The talented Tech-Ed department's constantly changing ideas and innovations successfully impacted our generation, and will impact generations to come.

Christmas Goodies...Students assist Mrs. Daugherty in the annual Christmas Tea. Kristin Moorhead said on the experience, "Working at the Christmas Tea was fun." The foods classes prepared 13 kinds of cookies and 3 kinds of appetizers for the successful event.

pursuing that final source

An occasional period spent in the library served as a necessity for the majority of Kiski students. For a week each fall, freshman English classes spent time in the library in order to teach pupils how to take the fullest advantage of its resources. The knowledge gained during that week proved extremely useful when researching information for various classes' projects and papers. Of course, if they forgot how to find the material they wanted, pupils could always ask librarian Mr. Ted Kulas or any of his student workers for assistance.

Just a few of the courses that relied on the library for research sources included sociology, psychology, U.S. History II Seminar, speech, and senior English classes. Most members of these courses depended on the high school library to supply the information necessary for their projects or papers. While looking up material for his senior class debate, Jason Maupin took time to comment, "It's harder than I thought to find what you need, but there is always someone to help, and then it all falls into place." Sophomore Greg Petrilla likewise took advantage of the library's resources when writing the infamous U.S. History II Seminar "Decades" paper. Petrilla stated, "The library helped me find many interesting topics for Mr. Intrieri's research paper."

If they did not have any research to do, students could take advantage of the library's assortment of fiction books. Periodicals such as newspapers and magazines also supplied news of current events to many pupils. Whether for work or pleasure, most students successfully used the library's resources. The high school library provided a learning environment accommodating to students desperately trying to find that final source.

Habla Espanol? Mrs. Held teaches her class the difference between the active and passive voices in Spanish III. An enthusiastic Jack Iacaboni commented, "Spanish class was very challenging, but Mrs. Held makes it fun to learn." Mrs. Held continually strived convey the Spanish culture to her students.

After the successful introduction of seven Advanced Placement courses the previous year, Kiski continued to offer the college-credit curriculum to juniors and seniors during the 2001-2002 school year. AP Spanish, taught by Mrs. Betty Love, replaced the former Spanish V and focused on the mastery of the Spanish language. Students in the class must have previously undertaken and passed four years of the language to qualify. As a reward for these individuals' hard work and dedication to learning Spanish, the school district decided to make the course into a weighted class. This intensive course featured activities such as class discussions, presentations, personal journals, and listening exercises. Each of these helped to develop students' literary, oral/aural comprehension, and vocabulary skills. The individuals in the class also learned about and had opportunities to experience bits and pieces of different Spanish-speaking cultures.

"The class is small and the ones in there are brilliant and motivated. It makes the job of the teacher easier," commented Mrs. Love about the privilege of having these students in her AP Spanish class. Those individuals spent countless time in and outside of class working to obtain mastery of the Spanish language. The entire year prepared students for the optional AP exam in May. Students with an acceptable grade on this exam could receive college credit for the course. Passing the test required comprehension of both reading and listening questions. Regardless of whether or not they took the exam, members of the Advanced Placement Spanish course gained the valuable knowledge of speaking and understanding a foreign tongue.

As most of the student body sat in class exercising their minds, a portion of their fellow classmates sweated it out in the gym, exercising their bodies. Welcome to a typical Kiski Area gym class full of exercise and excitement, where both boys and girls alike participated in activities such as swimming, floor hockey, and weight lifting. They also competed in the Presidential Challenge, which included the shuttle run, the mile, pull-ups, and several other fitness tests.

Picking a favorite activity seemed very difficult for girls' gym instructor Ms. Diane Haney. "Although I liked all the activities, I probably received the most satisfaction teaching swimming or seeing an individual's stroke improve. Swimming is a life skill that many people enjoy as a recreational or fitness activity well into their golden years," commented Mr. Haney. While Ms. Haney most enjoyed teaching swimming, Ms. Herbeck had a predilection toward volleyball and Mrs. Rossi liked racquetball the best. Certainly, however, no matter which activity, the dedicated physical education staff provided a solid fitness structure that students could build upon for life.

Although gym classes only lasted for one semester, they provided a beneficial escape from book work. They also showed students the positive aspects of working together as a team. Physical fitness classes remained some of the most valuable classes that students attended.

The students that chose to take part in Kiski's various bands experienced a successful and enjoyable year. After weeks of band camp and evenings filled with practices, members of the marching band decided to participate in the Bands of America Nationals. Competing against schools from all over the country, the Cavaliers gave an outstanding performance of "The Shape of Things to Come." The marching band earned the excellent award of placing seventh overall. Each dedicated member thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity to form part of the award-winning band. Clarinet player Carolyn Kemp commented, "When you're in marching band, you get to know the other people who are also in it very well. It creates bonds that last a lifetime."

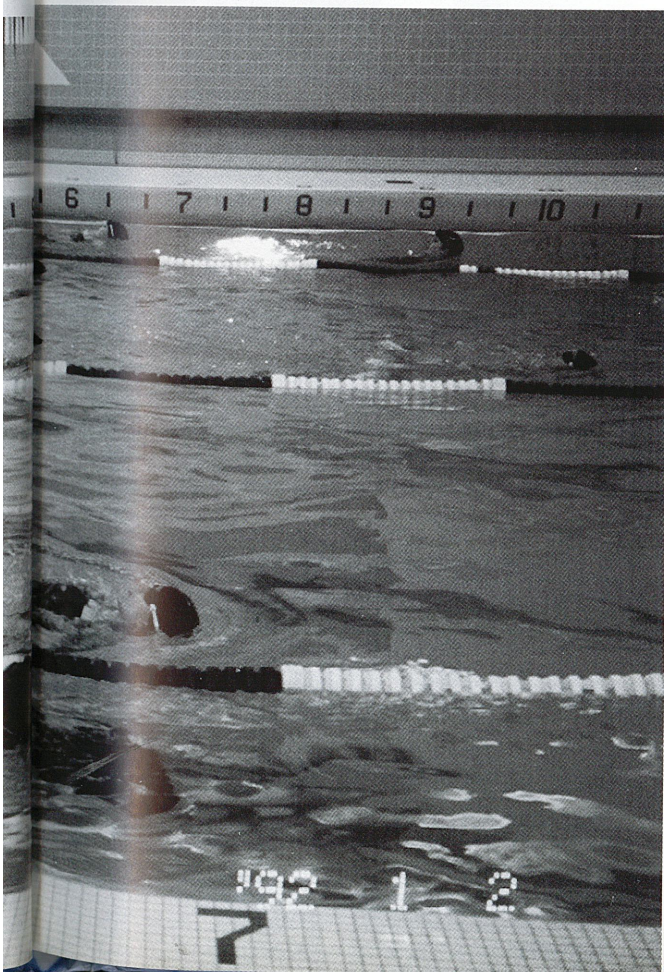

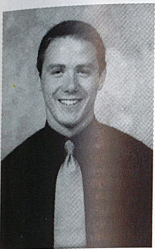

While the pupils in marching band prepared for competition, the high school's other bands busily practiced their pieces. Participants in the ninth grade, symphonic, wind ensemble, and jazz bands each presented their musical talent at multiple concerts throughout the year. For those individuals with exceptional instrumental skills, Kiski offered opportunities to compete for spots in several different honors bands. Instrumentalists performed as members of both the Alle-Kiski and Pennsylvania Music Educator Association (PMEA) Honors Bands. Clarinet player Jennifer Pollock stated, "Honors Bands are a great way to meet people from other schools who share your musical talent." No matter what band students chose to play in, they received the satisfaction of participating in one of the region's finest music programs.

pursuing extra help

All students developed, matured, and grew intellectually at different rates. The faculty here at Kiski strove to fulfill the specific, individualized needs of each of its pupils. The learning support staff consisted of a small group of teachers devoted to assisting those students that required more personalized attention. Those pupils who participated in the support program profited from extra time and help on their assignments and other schoolwork. This individual assistance received by students taking part in support helped to markedly increase their academic successes.

Mrs. Colleen Sites, who specialized in reading, found her calling to become a learning support teacher after witnessing many struggling students not receiving necessary help. "Although Mrs. Sites stated, 'Students' resistance to accept help remains difficult at times,' the positive effects seen throughout the learning support department far surpassed its challenges. The members of the department's staff worked hard to ensure that every student had the opportunity to learn and comprehend the material at hand. Both the teachers and students who comprised the learning support department served as positive examples for the entire school. The patient, caring teachers along with students eager to learn, came together to create an ideal learning environment.

Mr. Thomas Toland, head of the Mathematics Department, succeeded in changing the previous perspectives his students had about math. He helped his pupils learn trigonometry while forming friendships with them in the process. For his caring commitment to his students, Mr. Toland earned the title of "Teacher of the Year."

During class, Mr. Toland taught SOH-CAH-TOA and the unit circle, oftentimes even explaining Greek to his students. For individuals with difficulty, he offered tutoring sessions after school. Likewise, Mr. Toland worked to create a helpful trigonometry study book to assist in the learning process.

Mr. Toland served as not just an educator but also as friend to his students. He regularly attended the football games and school dances. Always there for his students, he dropped everything when one needed help. In his spare time, Mr. Toland created a yearbook for the Life Skills students to capture their year. When asked why he likes to teach, Mr. Toland replied, "I love the kids."

Mr. Toland positively changed students' attitudes towards both mathematics and student-teacher relationships. The time Mr. Toland gave to his students left permanent marks on their lives, and more importantly, on their futures.

The Life Skills classes served as a unique opportunity, both for the students in them and for their student helpers known as "buddies." The classes covered a wide range of topics as students learned many academic subjects including mathematics, reading, and spelling. In addition, the Life Skills program enabled the pupils to learn essential daily living skills, namely how to prepare meals, set the table, smart shopping, and budgeting money. Field trips also occurred, taking the students to a variety of local stores and attractions such as Giant Eagle, Kmart, the Pittsburgh Zoo and Aquarium, restaurants, bowling lanes and more.

Students in the Life Skills program especially enjoyed playing sports and receiving help from the buddies. Dante Rowe stated, "I like the buddies because they make me laugh." Dante also said he had fun playing basketball with senior Joey Tutchstone. Another Life Skills member, Jennifer Bontempo commented on how much she enjoyed working with the buddies - all of the Life Skills participants appreciated their assistance very much.

Outside of the classroom, the Life Skills students also participated in a variety of activities. Justin Miller enjoyed assisting the teachers in some of their daily tasks, such as checking the mail and carrying books. On the weekend, Justin and Clyde often attended the football games and cheered on the home team at Davis Field.

The students in the Life Skills class really enjoyed what they did here at Kiski. The Buddies offered the most they could to the special students, and formed strong, lifelong relationships. The Life Skills program truly rewarded everyone involved.

pursuing changes at lunch

For many years, students at Kiski Area High School waged through four morning classes before getting the opportunity to enjoy a "relaxing" lunch time. Once there, students faced the startling reality of the conditions present at lunch. Although intended as relaxing, the scene at the cafeterias during the two lunch periods instead oftentimes resembled small-scale warfare. All too often, long lines and a severe lack of chairs caused and compounded multiple problems for students attempting to enjoy their lunch period. With extremely cramped cafeterias, and an ever growing student body, something had to change.

Administrators began tossing around the idea of switching to a three lunch period schedule last school year, after witnessing for themselves the near total chaos at lunch. Beginning the first day of school this year, the new lunch schedule that they developed came into effect. For the first time, mixed grades ate together during the same lunch, and not all of the members of a class had the same lunch period. The new lunches also forced the elimination of a daily activity period. However, the schedule did continue to keep all senior and junior students in the Lower Cafeteria, while freshmen and sophomores dined in the Upper Cafeteria. Students expressed very divided opinions on whether the change had led to an improvement. When asked to comment on the brand-new schedule, senior Leah Vida remarked, "The new lunch system here at Kiski is one that the students will have to get used to. Although students are not distributed equally amongst each lunch, it will be more efficient for both teachers and students in the long run." Hopefully her opinion will prove correct, and students will enjoy a safer, truly relaxing lunch for years to come.

pursuing the clean sweep

Did you ever wonder who kept the halls free of cobwebs and cleaned the sticky wads of gum from the water fountains? Everyday at 2:44 PM, as students raced out of the school to their buses, the hardworking custodian and sweeper staff hurried to combat the messes created that day.

Armed with brooms, buckets, and an assortment of cleaners, custodians and sweepers scoured the school from top to bottom. They removed the grime produced by wet shoes, overflowing lockers, and unique uses for food. The sweepers did everything from washing blackboards to mopping a seemingly endless number of classrooms to a task no one ever wants to do - cleaning the bathrooms. Custodians also helped out by cutting the grass or shoveling snow from sidewalks, depending on the season. At the end of each year, the custodians and sweepers cleaned out lockers and reset the combinations for next year's students. These individuals dedicated their work hours to improving our school's appearance and ensured that the school hallways and classrooms would remain clean.

Many of their daily tasks have changed since the high school first opened, such as cleaning computer screens instead of typewriter keys. Sweeper Ruth Budosh commented, "When I started, the rooms had typewriters. Now they have computers." However, one thing always remained constant. The custodian and sweeper staff have always enjoyed the presence of the students and teachers that they helped everyday. Sweeper Nancy Gasbarro said, echoing the thoughts of all of the maintenance staff, "When I'd finish cleaning at the end of the day, I knew I had done something for the students and teachers."

Once again, Kiski Area High School's stage became much more than teachers and students alike thought possible. Hard work and perseverance turned a bare, paint-covered stage into a small but bustling town in the Oklahoma Territory. The auditorium even made a jump in time, back to the turn of the 20th century.

Rehearsing for nearly three months, Director Mrs. Rupert, the cast, and the orchestra put on an excellent performance each night while having fun in the process. The crew continually kept scene changes running smoothly and worked tirelessly to meet the backstage demands of live theater. When cast and crew combined their efforts on show nights, tickets became hard to get. In fact, the show sold out all four nights and received standing ovations on three of the four nights.

Many cast members claimed that participating in Oklahoma became one of their favorite high school activities. Senior Danielle Rogan commented, "The musical was a great experience. ormally during fall hours after school, a rather peaceful scene prevailed at the back parking lot. Filled with either parked cars or with the practicing Marching Band, generally unremarkable events took place on its pavement. However, on the evening of Wednesday, October 17, 2001, a fire in this very parking lot burned brilliantly into the night.

The second annual bonfire, sponsored by the Pride Club, offered students a unique way to spend an evening. Organized to boost morale for the fall sports teams, the bonfire provided a chance to show off Kiski pride. Individuals filled with pent-up frustration from a long day at school could purchase turns to destroy an old car with a sledgehammer. After they had finished venting their angers on the car, students could dance to music provided by a DJ. Senior Kari Snyder stated, "I had a lot of fun at the bonfire. Everybody danced and smashed the car. It's just a good time!"

As the crowd listened to the music and watched the attacks on the car, the success of the bonfire evidenced the strength of Kiski's pride. "I think that the bonfire brought the school's spirit out. Everyone was just there to have a good time and show their pride," stated senior Chris Truffa. As anyone who turned out for the bonfire could clearly see, the Cavalier spirit still prevails.

s students attended school on October 31, they wore various costumes. Whether scary or funny, the variety of costumes made for an interesting walk through the halls. Costumes ranged from the traditional ghosts and goblins to the "Pink Ladies" and "T-Birds" from the movie "Grease."

During the PM activity period that day, Student Council sponsored a Halloween Coffeehouse in the upper and lower cafeterias for these characters that had purchased a ticket earlier in the week. Freshmen and sophomores gathered in the upper cafeteria and juniors and seniors in the lower cafeteria. At the Coffeehouse, students mingled and had a chance to view and possibly shudder at the sight of the other students' costumes. Student Council provided the Halloween goodies that included a beverage and cookies. Students could also participate in wide assortment of games to possibly win prizes. Shauna Moser offered, "My favorite part of the Coffeehouse was seeing Becca Ehalt dress goth and being able to film everything for Broadcast Media."

As Kiski's costumed left on their buses, students planned for an exciting Halloween night. Some students stayed at home to pass out candy to the younger trick-or-treaters, while others went out themselves to fill their bags with sugary treats.

The silence in the packed gymnasium surprised many when Channel 4 Action News reporter, Andrew Stockey, drove into Cavalier Country. For the second time, Mr. Stockey awarded a Kiski Area athlete the Student Athlete of the Week award for Channel 4 Action News. Senior quarterback Corey Smith happily received the Operation Football trophy and a T-shirt. The rest of the blue and gold Cavalier football team also received shirts and proudly wore them. The principal, Mr. Anthony Nicholas, accepted a check for two hundred and fifty dollars for the high school in honor of Corey's performance. The assembly went smoothly. The student body sat in silence at appropriate moments and enthusiastically cheered throughout the duration of Corey's celebration. Corey, in his speech, replied, "I thank my fellow teammates."

The award resulted after an amazing football game for Corey and his teammates. They won the game after scoring two touchdowns with only seconds left in the fourth quarter. The role Corey played caught the attention of fellow classmates, other local teams, and Mr. Stockey.

Corey's achievements did not stop at that game. He went on to break the school record for passing yards, which had remained untouched since 1997. His remarkable season and accomplishments proved he deserved the recognition from his classmates, teachers, and the community. Corey and the rest of the school will never forget the memorable year.

Corey offered on the experience, "If it weren't for my great coaches and the awesome team, I would never be standing here today for this honor." Corey represents the second Kiski student to win the award as Jaime Vick won it two years earlier.

Celebrity lookalikes

as anyone ever told you that you resembled a celebrity? Most people replied, yes. Celebrity look-a-likes existed everywhere. Whether shopping at the mall or dining in a restaurant, someone eerily familiar certainly caught your eye. Perhaps Julia Roberts tried on the tank top you just bought, or Tom Cruise ate a slice of pizza at your favorite Italian restaurant. No matter what time or place, celebrity look-a-likes grabbed our undivided attention.

However, a mistaken famous identity definitely had its ups as well as its downs.

Celebrities received enormous amount of attention as well as many luxuries. On the other hand, one could not forget the downfalls due to fame. The constant mobs of people asking for autographs plus the pressure of continuously presenting yourself to the public involved just a few burdens, at the very least.

Perhaps everybody really does have a twin somewhere in the world. As for the celebrities we simply remain their stunt doubles.

any season goals?

When asked his opinion on the football team's performance this year, Coach Dave Grimm struggled to find words strong enough to describe his pride. Mr. Grimm stated simply that, "We were really proud of our guys this season."

When Mr. Grimm took over the position of head coach in 1998, he faced the difficult task of revitalizing a declining program. His efforts greatly contributed to the team as they heroically made the playoffs this season.

The 2001-2002 Kiski Cavalier football team followed in the footsteps of distant past championship teams through determination, focus, and commitment. With the talent and desire that all of the team possessed, the football players brought excitement to every game. Their winning talents united school spirit, with the bleachers filled with cheering fans at the pep assemblies held before every home game. When the crowds stormed onto the field after yet another win, the football team and its fans displayed a long forgotten Kiski pride.

The student body was really pumped up because the team had such a winning season. It was a great thing to be a part of." The cheerleaders brought Kiski's sense of team spirit back to Davis Field.

most memorable cheerleading moment?

Simply put, the Kiski Area cheerleaders encouraged enthusiasm in the fans. From the football field to the basketball court, the girls imposed a tremendous sense of school spirit in the student body. However, what most people did not realize was the amount of hard work and dedication put forth by these glitterful young girls.

Squad members put forth countless hours of practice to master their difficult and staining routines. Under head coach Ms. Vonne Cramer, the cheerleaders strived for perfection, choreographing every motion to a T.

Certainly, the achievements that resulted from the discipline did not simply involve the experiences themselves. Additionally, numerous friendships blossomed throughout the season, resulting in not only a championship squad, but also a close group of friends. Senior captain Alexa Pacchioni commented, "The closeness on the squad as well as the bus rides home were by far the most enjoyable aspects of cheerleading."

It remained without question that the Kiski cheerleaders provided us all with some extra pep in our steps. The voices of the blue and gold will continue to echo not only in our minds, but also in our hearts for countless years to come.

worst workout ever?

Beginning with the blazing sun of summer and culminating with flurries in the air, the Kiski Area boys and girls cross country teams ran through all conditions to train for their meets. Regarding the training, Josh Rupert said, "A cross country runner has to be crazy because the training is so intense." Led by their senior captains, the boys cross country team finished with a record of 4-4 amidst tough Section IV competition. Boys MVP, Mike Wagner had an outstanding season with many top 10 finishes, including seventh at WPIAL finals that qualified him for the state championship meet. His time there placed him fourth on the all-time cross country list.

The Kiski Area girls cross country team had an excellent season placing second in Section IV with a record of 7-1. Senior Captain and MVP Tara Mohamed also qualified for the state championships with her eighteenth place finish at WPIAL Finals. In addition, junior Emily Lion broke the nine-year-old home course record.

Living up to their motto of "no time limit, no speed limit, no dream limit," the teams set goals and then put forth maximum effort every time they stepped on the line. The dedication shown by these athletes can allow them to pursue greater goals next season.

With records of 9-8-1 for the girls and 9-6-3 for the boys, the soccer teams each finished very well in their sections. Perhaps the biggest games of the year took place against the arch rivals of Gateway for the girls and Connellsville for the boys. Although the girls team lost to Gateway, the boys team flourished with a huge win against Connellsville.

Hard work and practice allowed for both teams to display a superb performance. Nightly practices permitted the soccer players to perfect their skills.

The soccer teams easily found support from their fans. Some dedicated individuals followed the team to every game, cheering loudly and yelling their belief in the team's skills.

Captains of the boys team included Jim Lingeris, Tyler Smith, and Frank Amato. Rachel Campbell, Crystal Heder, and Emily Evans constantly provided encouragement while serving as the girls team's captains. Emily stated, "This season was a lot of fun! extreme sport aspirations?

In most sports the highest score won, but the golf teams conquered by doing exactly the opposite. Both teams strove for the lowest score possible.

The girls' team putted their way into the playoffs. Under the leadership of their new coach, Nancy Gibson, the team's members pulled their individual talents together. Captains Ashley Walker and Missy Palermo encouraged the girls to work hard at improving their skills. They played every game seriously, but also enjoyed the times spent at the course. Senior Heather Fabry stated, "I had a lot of fun this year."

The boys golf team likewise experienced an enjoyable season. Led by captains Kevin Kurkowski, Greg Giocondo, and Dave Greenlee, the golfers on the team supported each other's efforts. The team's members devoted hours after school to practice. Rick Mottura, another first-year coach, ensured that the boys completed a successful season.

Golfers on both of the teams walked each course after school with confidence. As reflected in their excellent seasons, fun and hard work teed off hand in hand.

Senior Megan Stevenson stated, "This year we all got along very well and had a lot of fun. Allie really helped to pull us all together and keep our spirits high."

Meanwhile, on the girls team, Dorrie Byford worked with Megan Stevenson, and Ashley Boyachick paired with Alicia Lester for excellent sets of matches. any season expectations?

Playoffs became the goal early on in the 2001 Girls Volleyball team this season - a goal they realized after beating Norwin and Franklin Regional late into the schedule. Even though the Lady Cavs experienced their share of ups and downs, nothing could stop them from achieving their aspirations.

Various contributions, including the time spent playing together, the tremendous amount of talent, and the closeness of the team, led them toward success. The season ended earlier than the players hoped and expected. However, advancing to the second round of the playoffs served as quite an accomplishment.

Senior Natalie Noble commented, "The volleyball team was given the bittersweet number of eight seniors this season. As a group, we have been looking forward to our senior year since seventh grade. We have played together so long that we all are extremely familiar with each other's strengths, weaknesses, and style of play. Most of all, we just had a lot of fun."

The whole team put forth a great effort throughout the entire season. The Lady Cavs depended on each other both on and off the court. Losing nearly half of the team as seniors, the remaining players will certainly step up to carry on Kiski's fine showing on the court.

Block That Shot... Goalie Brian McLaughlin prepares to block the shot. When asked about defending the net, Brian answered, "As the goalie, I feel it's the most intense position on the team. You have to be ready at all times." Attackers spent many frustrating attempts trying to sneak one by Brian this season.

This was my first year on the team so my biggest accomplishment was getting up to speed with the others.

My biggest accomplishment was being named captain of the team. It was an honor.

biggest personal accomplishment?

In most evenings and weekends, the hockey teams spent hours diligently perfecting their talents at the Center Ice Arena in Delmont. Their practices paid off, as both the junior varsity and freshmen teams experienced a successful year. Freshman Adam Galmoff stated, "This has been Kiski's best season. We owe it to the coaching staff and the effort of our teammates."

The guidance provided by freshman coach Jeff Horvath and junior varsity coach Marty Brandy led to some memorable events. Freshman Brian McLaughlin stated that his favorite game occurred whenever, "... we defeated Pittsburgh Central Catholic, which was considered one of the best freshmen teams, to win the Shadyside Academy Tournament."

With the leadership shown by captains Mark Pepler and Steve Szostak, the teams proved themselves as formidable opponents. As a result of the talented efforts put forth, Kiski's hockey teams once again skated through a successful season.

pumping up for the game routines?

What did you get when an orange ball, a ten-foot basket, and five players that consistently gave 110% came together? You guessed it, the 2001-2002 boys basketball team. With all five starters returning from last season, the Cavs made it their goal to clinch a section title and advance to the playoffs.

Always drawing enormous crowds, the boys spiced up the frigid winter nights, filling the gym with fierce competition and endless thrills. Whether Mike Rairigh busted a three at the buzzer or Corey Smith slammed it home, the fans constantly turned their heads to see what would happen next.

Under coaches Mr. Rupert, Mr. Rupert, Mr. Ambrose, and Mr. Intrieri, the boys became an overpowering force on the court. The team always kept a positive attitude when it came to winning. Junior Zach Rupert remarked, "The best part about our team is knowing that we can beat anyone anywhere."

The Cavaliers' aggressive style surely led to their success. No matter what the obstacle, nothing could stop Kiski's Dream Team from becoming champions.

The Lady Cavaliers took the floor pumped up and ready to play. Returning from a section title and a playoff berth, the Lady Cavs had big shoes to fill. In order to accomplish this goal, each team member contributed something unique to the team, resulting in a vitally strong, multitalented squad.

Under head coach, Mr. Tom Pipkins, and assistant coaches, Mr. Tom Lucchino and Mr. Bill Ceraso, the girls worked hard day in and day out to improve their skills. Focus and determination became a vital part of each practice, along with friendship and reciprocity.

"This year was definitely an interesting one. One of my fondest memories was playing Catch Phrase after pre-game meals. It seemed to help us relax before a big game," remarked senior captain Jaime Vick when asked about the season. Other senior captains included Ashley Cochran, Lindsay Pierce, Jodie Vick, and Ashley Walker.

With positive attitudes and support from their fans, the Lady Cavs filled the gym with classic basketball excitement. Their confidence and ability to play carried them through their much-anticipated season.

off-season regrets and misses?

Like all of the athletes at Kiski, the members of the Cavalier swim team made every effort to work together as a team in order to seek positive results in competition throughout the 2001-2002 season. Although team results remained important, the members of both the boys and girls swim teams never stopped seeking their personal bests in each and every meet. They trained diligently to improve upon their freestyle, backstroke, breaststroke, and butterfly until the time came to race against the clock and competitors.

The Cavs competed in various events, such as diving, sprints, and long-distance swimming, which tested not only their physical strength, but also their ability to persevere past obstacles and strive for excellence. Coach, Mr. Ryan Berberich recalled his experiences as a swimmer, and helped his athletes to "gain the same positive things from swimming through similar experiences I have encountered."

With more things in common than just a love for water, the young swim team's willingness and desire to compete aided them in gaining experience and maturity. The Cavalier swim team will surely create big splashes for years to come.

worst injury due to the sport?

Finishing last season 18-1 with the team's only loss in the WPIAL championship match against Connellsville, the Cavalier wrestlers began their season in pursuit of another section title as well as their first WPIAL championship since 1997. Kiski's wrestling program, regarded as one of the perennial powerhouses in the WPIAL, returned many of last year's starters back to the lineup this season.

Intense training played a crucial role in the team's success in past years, and once again did so this year. Besides wrestling other teammates in practice, wrestlers did some distance running and performed many weightlifting exercises to get and stay in form. This training proved necessary to keep the wrestlers strong and helped them make a specific weight if they needed. Jason Clark commented, "The success of the wrestling team is earned by the team's hard work."

Every match won by a wrestler contributed to the success of the team. Wrestling anywhere from 103 pounds up to heavyweight, one felt a sense of accomplishment and pride by helping the team carry on its long winning tradition.

Driven by their love for America's pastime, the 2001 Kiski baseball team fought through the challenges of the season, sparing nothing to produce runs and victories. Although the team faced disappointment with their 7-8 record, the admirable effort they gave spoke louder than their total victories. Mr. Jewart coached the Varsity team while Mr. Berberich took the reigns to the Junior Varsity squad.

Even though the team failed to reach the playoffs, the team believed in themselves all the way. Junior Mike Barone commented on the 2001 season by saying, "This past season brought a lot of fun and great memories to all the players. We might not have made it to the playoffs in 2001, but we're going all the way in '02!"

The 2002 team featured a variety of new faces, but with the always present veteran leadership and the coaching of Mr. Jewart and staff, the players planned on a successful season. With all the new and promising players on this year's team, Kiski Area had a lot to cheer about this past spring.

The 2001 boys and girls track and field teams ran, jumped, and threw their way to super seasons. The boys track and field team had a final record of 9-5 and finished second in Section I. With this record, the Cavaliers advanced to the playoffs for the second time in two years. Ending the season at WPIAL team finals, the team capped off an excellent season with a fourth place finish. In 2001, the team had many talented junior athletes, all expected to contribute to the success of the team in 2002. Regarding the playoffs, Zach Pityk commented, "The best part of the playoffs was the excitement and focus of the players as we got off the bus."

The Kiski Area Girls track and field teams finished with a third place finish in Section I and a 5-2 record. Even though the team did not make the playoffs, many athletes had great seasons and achieved many individual accomplishments. Former senior Marcie Hepler won gold medals in the shot put at the WPIAL and state levels.

Whether competing for individual or team glory, the athletes of the track and field teams accomplished great feats in pursuit of the gold medal.

These individuals never left practice or a game with one clean spot on them. The members of the softball team also discovered that the ball did not hit so softly. Coach Dianne Haney and the girls worked hard to complete a successful season.

They spent hours on the field, batting, catching, and throwing the softball in perfect plays. The senior captains, Jane Martin, Chandra Heilman, and Anna Burlikowski supported the young but very talented team. Sophomore Kelsey Knapp continued with her excellent pitching. The naturally talented team cheered for Knapp and backed her up with their fielding.

With their amazing spirits, the girls enjoyed playing on the team while learning from hard games. Jen Eshbaugh, senior, said, "We played well and worked hard, but also had fun."

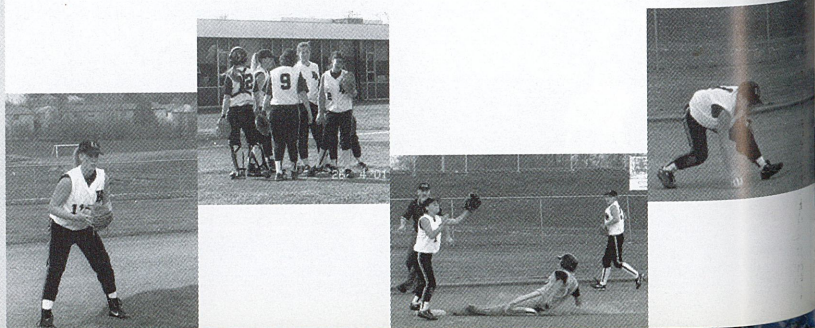

The closeness of the players deeply contributed to the teamwork. Friendships among team members expanded to include every player. With all factors combined, the softball team slid softly into a great season.

MARCHING band

Imagine the feeling of 28,000 people standing on their feet cheering for you. This feeling reflects exactly what the Kiski Area High School Marching Band experienced at Grand Nationals.

From August until November the Kiski Band developed, practiced, and perfected their 8-minute show, The Shape of Things To Come. This past November the band traveled to Indianapolis, Indiana to compete at the Bands of America Grand National Championships at the RCA Dome. Grand Nationals provided for an extremely competitive four-day event. Nationals began with 90 bands competing in Preliminary Performance and ended with 12 bands fighting for the title of Grand National Champion at the Finals Performance. To rank among the 12 best bands in the nation at Finals performance became quite an honor - one that every band member will forever cherish.

Finals performance began with an extremely intense 15-minute body warm-up followed by a 30-minute music warm up in the rear of the RCA Dome. Following the warm up, the band entered a carpeted room beneath the dome and waited for two very large doors to open, unveiling the air lock. The band remained inside of the air lock and waited for the doors to close. The air lock equalized the air pressure in the Dome. Inside the air lock, the band stood at attention, and watched with thousands of emotions as the doors opened to reveal the RCA Dome filled to the brim with fans. Once the doors opened, Kiski Band made their way to the back sideline and lined themselves up to take the field for their final performance of The Shape of Things To Come. For eight minutes, the marching band executed the best performance of the season, feeding off the crowd's excitement and cheers. After the final note rang and the final poses took form, the Kiski Area High School Marching Band looked to receive the cheers from the 28,000 standing fans in the RCA Dome - adoration from family, friends, competitors, and judges.

Tears, laughter, happiness, pride, relief, and sadness all combined to end another marching season. Certainly many more outstanding shows lie ahead - all reflected in The Shape of Things to Come.

Shaping Up...The Kiski Band unveils their brand new uniforms at the Bands of America Eastern Regional at West Virginia University. Senior Jackie Johnson commented on the experience, "I loved performing at WVU. It was the best feeling in the world to know we performed the best that we could. It did not really matter if we placed first or tenth, just as long as we performed our very best." The Band took first place in their class and placed second overall to Lassiter High School from Georgia.

describe your thoughts as you first entered the dome...

"I have never been so excited and scared in my entire life. It is such an amazing feeling to be able to perform in front of thousands and thousands of people. It makes you feel great about yourself."

- amber miller

"I was really excited and proud because there were thousands of people cheering our school on as we marched on to the field, just moments away from performing."

- kurt wolfgang

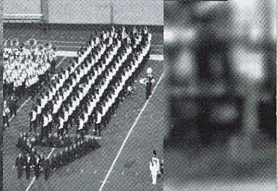

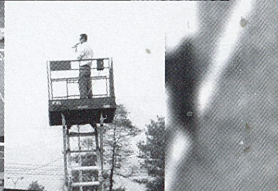

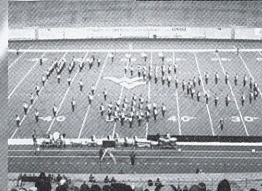

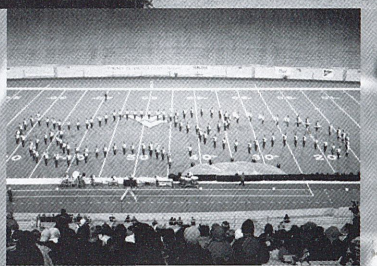

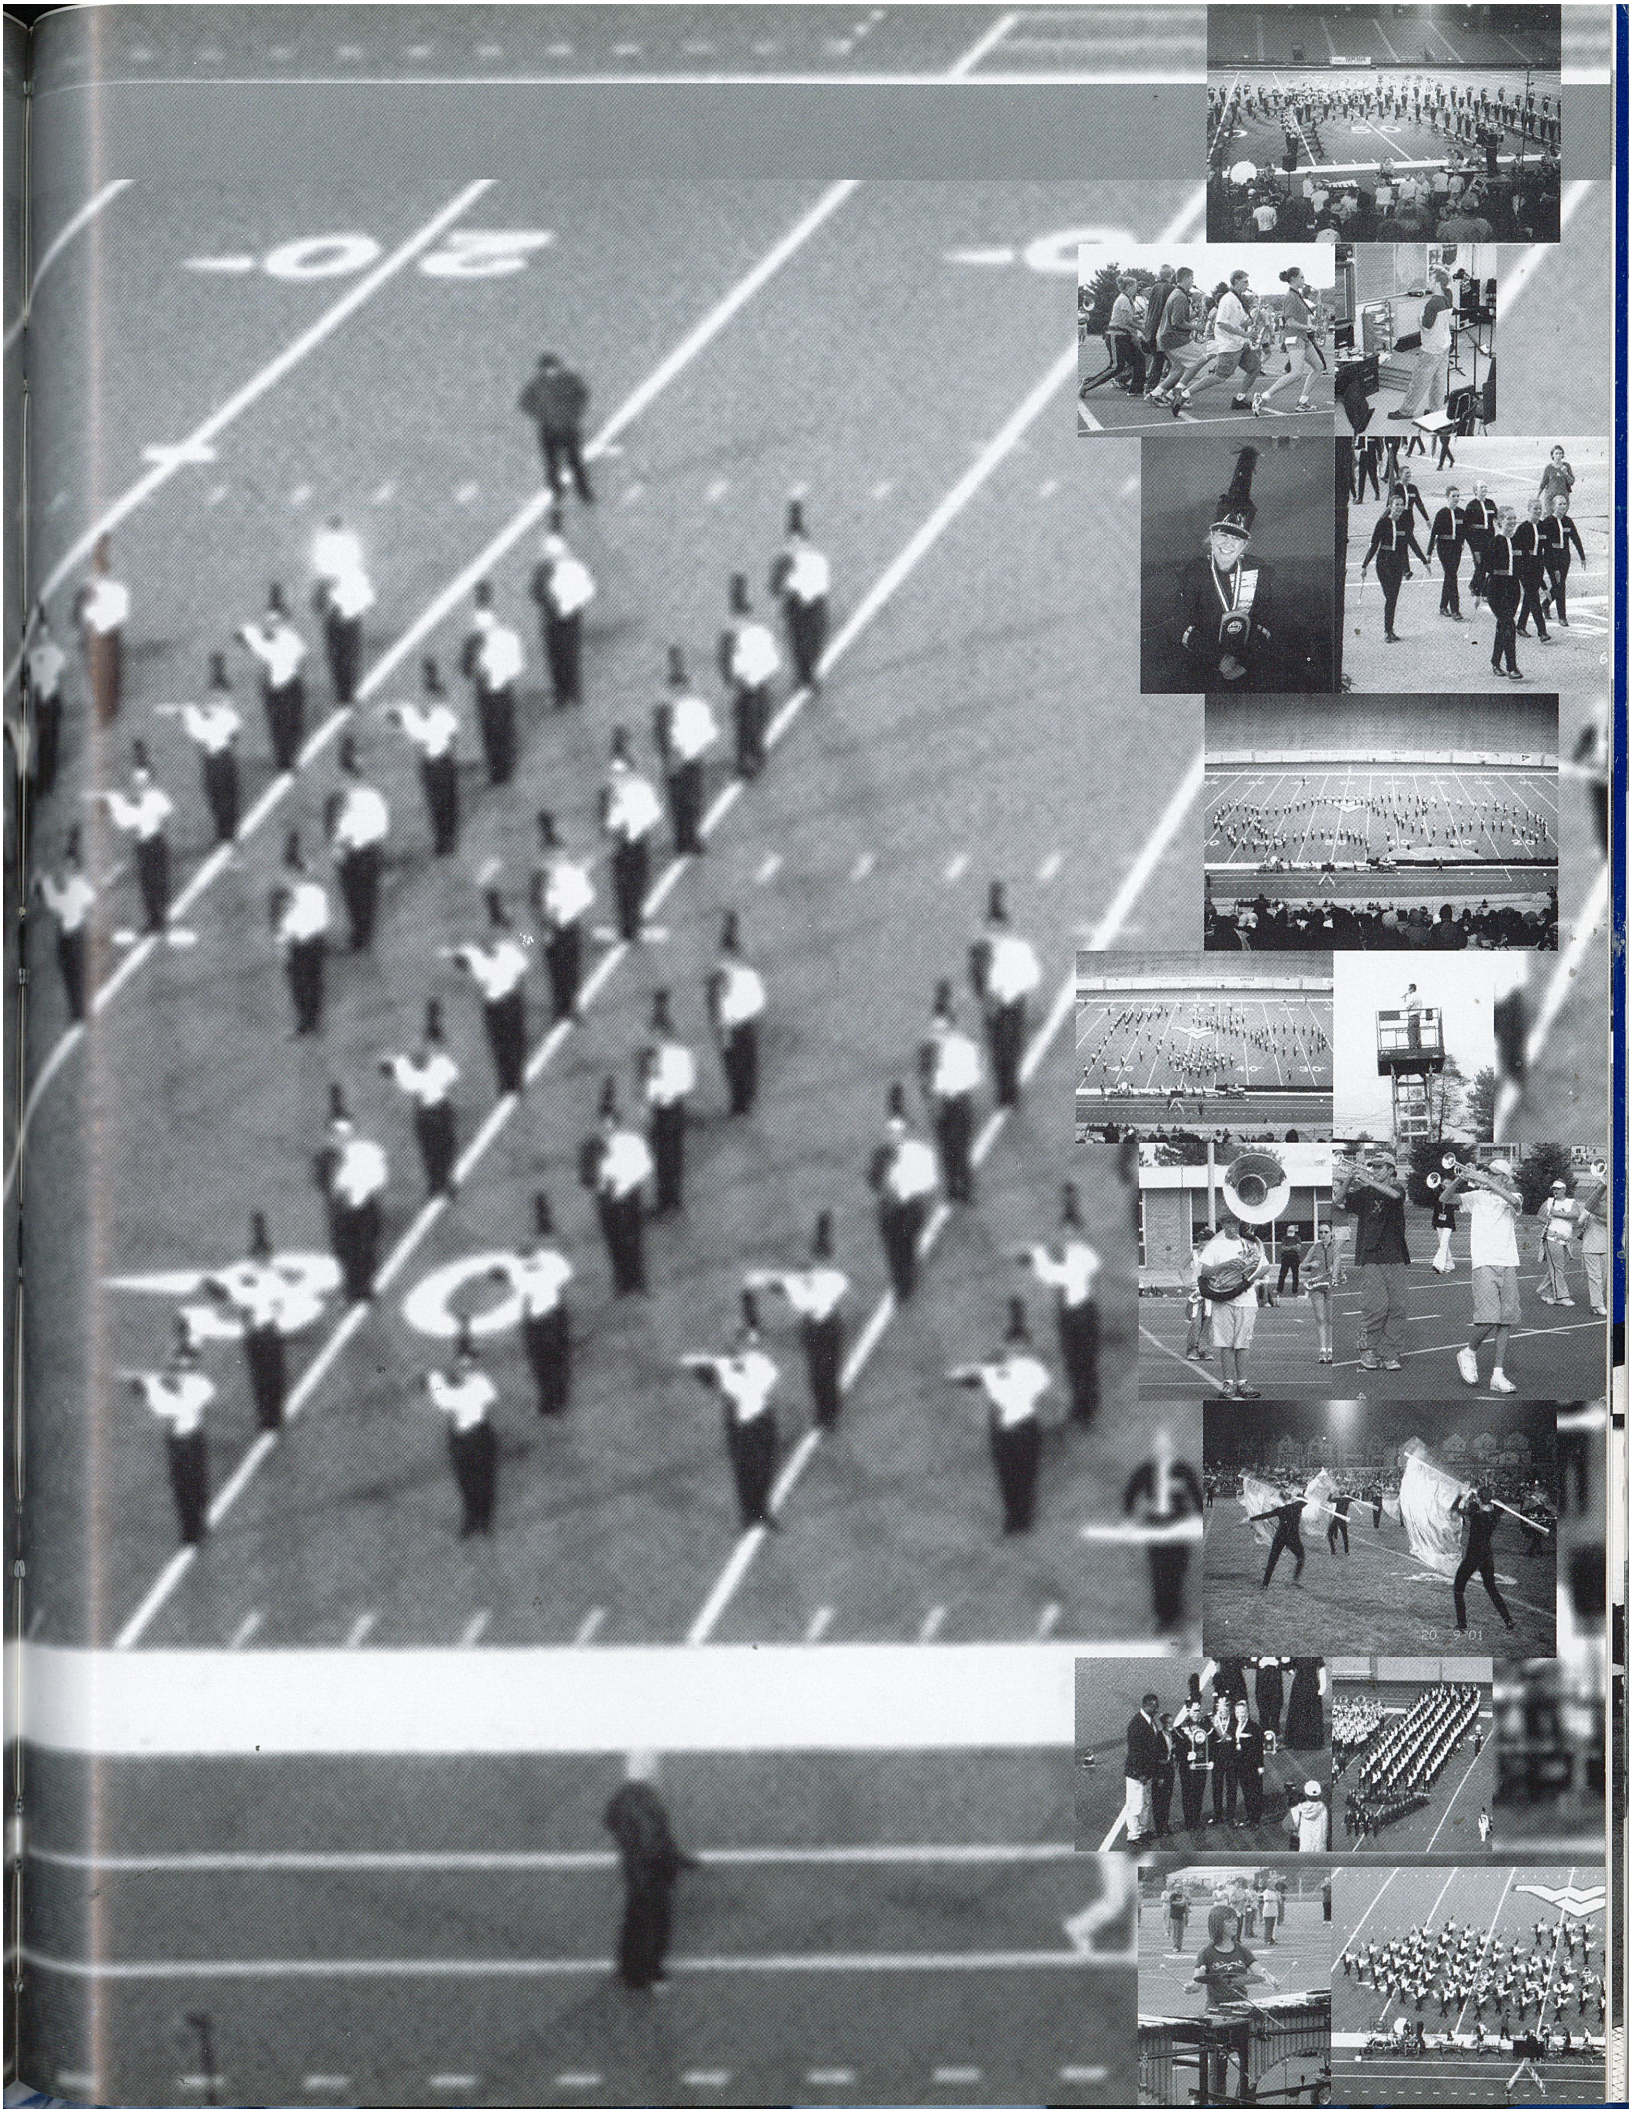

"I was very excited. I knew that all of my hard work would pay off. I was very emotionally and mentally worn out."

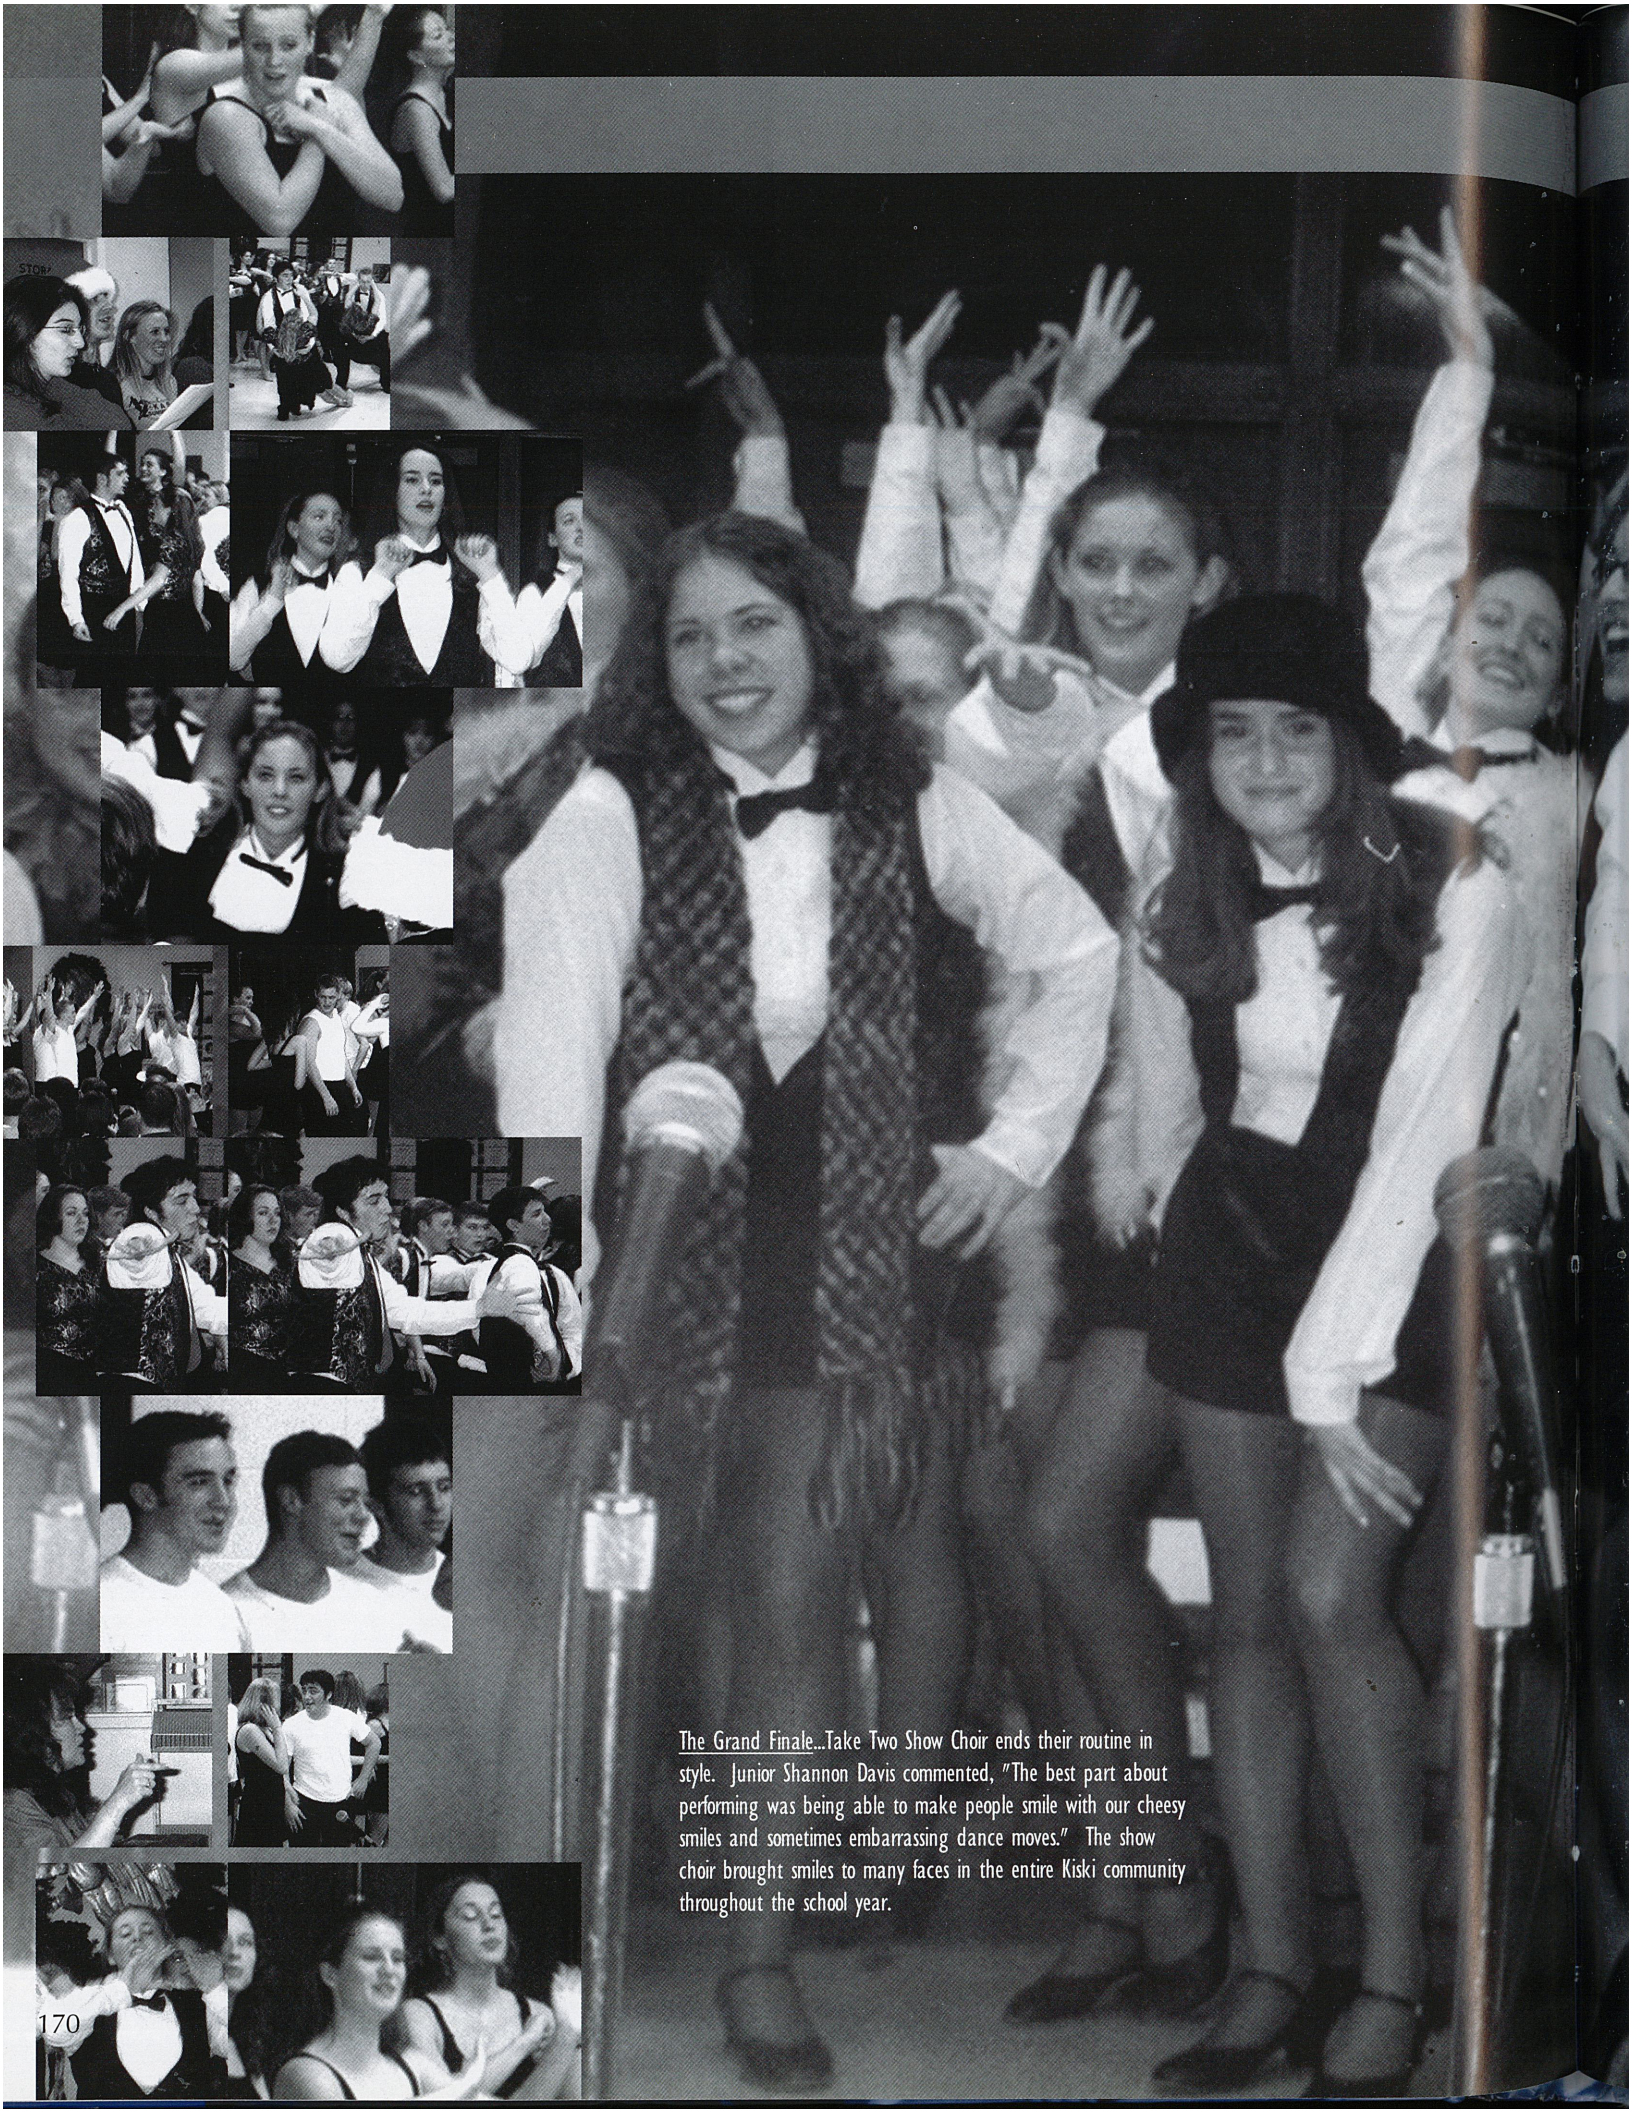

- sarah moore

"My feelings were mixed. I was excited and scared, all at the same time."

- ed falk

The Grand Finale...Take Two Show Choir ends their routine in style. Junior Shannon Davis commented, "The best part about performing was being able to make people smile with our cheesy smiles and sometimes embarrassing dance moves." The show choir brought smiles to many faces in the entire Kiski community throughout the school year.

SHOW choirs

During the course of the school year, the high school's show choirs performed many shows for varied audiences, ranging from wide-eyed elementary students to business tycoons. The members of the show choirs gained many fond memories from these experiences.

One of the most memorable performances occurred this year whenever the Kaleidoscope Show Choir sang at a hospital for individuals recovering from serious injuries. Most of the audience could not mobilize themselves without help from a nurse or visitor, so the choir traveled from one patient's room to the next, brightening their faces with song and dance.

An especially touching scene occurred when a woman with her head bandaged and breathing tubes in her mouth and nose, sat in a wheelchair watching the show. A man visiting her for the holidays, possibly the woman's son, sat at her side. As the show choir sang, a smile appeared on the man's face, expressing a happiness his mother could not show.

Bringing such a genuine smile to the faces of many made the hours of dedication and frustration of show choir well worth it. Senior Dorrie Byford commented, "Even though being in show choir required a lot of hard work and time, its benefits made it worthwhile. Nothing brightens your day like a second grader telling you that he's your biggest fan and wants to sing and dance like you." The audiences' reactions to the performances truly demonstrated the worth of the effort put forth by Kiski's show choirs.

Determining which senior editor contributed most to this book presented quite a challenge for Stacey, the 2001-2002 editor-in-chief, and myself. This year's editorial staff, consisting of eight seniors and three juniors, performed each task well beyond my wildest expectations-each editor offering his or her best effort. Stacey and I conversed several times over who should receive the honor of Editor of the Year. We finally agreed upon one decision; two editors deserved the title.

First, we certainly thought that Lindsay Mangus truly aimed to make the 2002 Campus the best that Kiski has ever had. I recalled many times throughout the year when we needed a quote for an immediate deadline; Lindsay always took the initiative to seek out the perfect person to fulfill that task. Additionally, throughout the year, Lindsay always strove to find someone that has not yet appeared in the yearbook; she always tried to include more and more Kiski students in the book. She certainly gave her all to the 2002 Campus yearbook production.

Secondly, no other yearbook in Kiski's history could compare in writing to the 2002 Campus. While Stacey definitely offered her writing expertise to production, I honestly had to recognize both the organizational and literary talents of Kimberly Zanolli. Kim had consistently written exceptional stories for three years as a Kiski yearbook staff member. Stacey and I both wanted to express our thanks to Kim for her dedication and literary skills. We felt that she truly captured the essence of Kiski in prose.

Certainly, many individuals contributed to this yearbook - a historical record that ranked among the absolute best in the entire nation. Stacey and I desired to express our thanks to all involved - but mostly to Lindsay and Kim for "pursuing" the true essence of Kiski - one that shall bring back many memories when those that appeared in this book might look back upon their own "lives after forty."

amanda miller - business

As the year drew to a close, students would receive their yearbooks; to them, the books seemed to be mere collections of pictures and stories that followed their year from start to finish. To the staff of the 2002 Campus, however, the yearbook meant much more than that.

In celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the school's yearbook, the 2002 staff worked with diligence to produce a text that would do justice to the first forty years of its existence and reflect some of the history of the school that it followed. Additionally, the staff and editors felt pressed to create a book that would be as well-received by national judges as the Campus has been since its first years with sponsor Mr. Paul Fantaski. For another year, their work paid off: the edition of the Campus read at this moment would become available to many students aspiring to create an equally good yearbook in other parts of the nation.

However, the excellent photos and well-composed stories included in Kiski's 2002 yearbook would not become deserving of national acclaim on their own. Only with the interaction of four major staffs and an editorial staff made up of dedicated juniors and seniors could such a book become reality. These editors overlooked the most minute of details and practiced tricks of the journalistic trade to produce a dynamic, living version of the Campus. The fruits of their hard work would live on, whether on the shelves of school and home libraries or in the hearts of students, for years to come.

No Time To Waste... Editors Melanie Mazanek and Iysha Evelyn "take care of business." When asked about handling tens of thousands of dollars, Iysha replied, "Our goal this year was to make enough money to pay off the yearbook and have some money left over." Melanie and Iysha had the responsibility of raising and handling finances, taking book orders, and distributing the yearbooks.

This year's French Club, comprised of students from all levels of French offered at Kiski, enjoyed an active year. Along with Madame Karen Brady, an executive committee that oversaw that basic functions of the club and assisted in the planning of club activities governed the French Club.

In hopes of spreading awareness of French culture to the club, Madame Brady and members of the committee led a trip to the Benedum Theatre in Pittsburgh to see Les Miserables. Senior executive committee member Lauren Aljoe commented, "Being in French Club gave me the opportunity to explore French history and culture. When we saw Les Miserables, I learned not only about the French Revolution, but I also discovered a "beautiful and touching story." The trip taught members about French history and culture.

Another activity of the French Club, a trip to Quebec in the early summer, gave students a firsthand experience of French-based culture, so hoped Madame Brady. The French Club planned numerous fundraisers in order to help offset the cost of this enlightening trip.

With all the activities the French Club had planned, the members spoke of nothing but pride when asked about their opinions of the club. With the hard work of the members and the guidance of Madame Brady, the Kiski Area French Club enjoyed a wonderful and fun-filled year.

Shelves filled the library containing books about everything from cows to nuclear fusion. How could someone ever find the resources they needed for a certain biology or English paper in that warehouse of fiction and nonfiction? The library aides guided the wary students through the menacing stacks of books and magazines to help find that perfect article or novel.

Library aides took on many vital tasks to keep the library organized and easy for all students to use. They signed books in and out of the library. The aides also had the responsibility of handling the late fees incurred whenever students found their library books hidden under their beds months after their due dates.

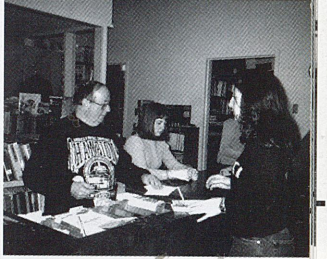

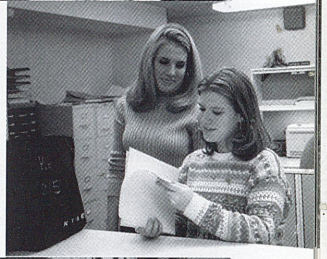

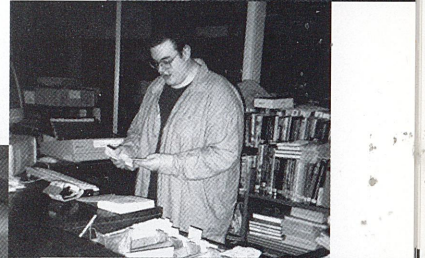

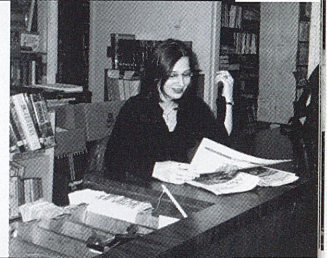

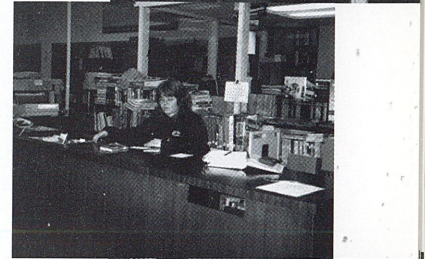

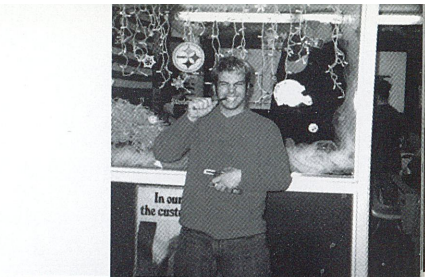

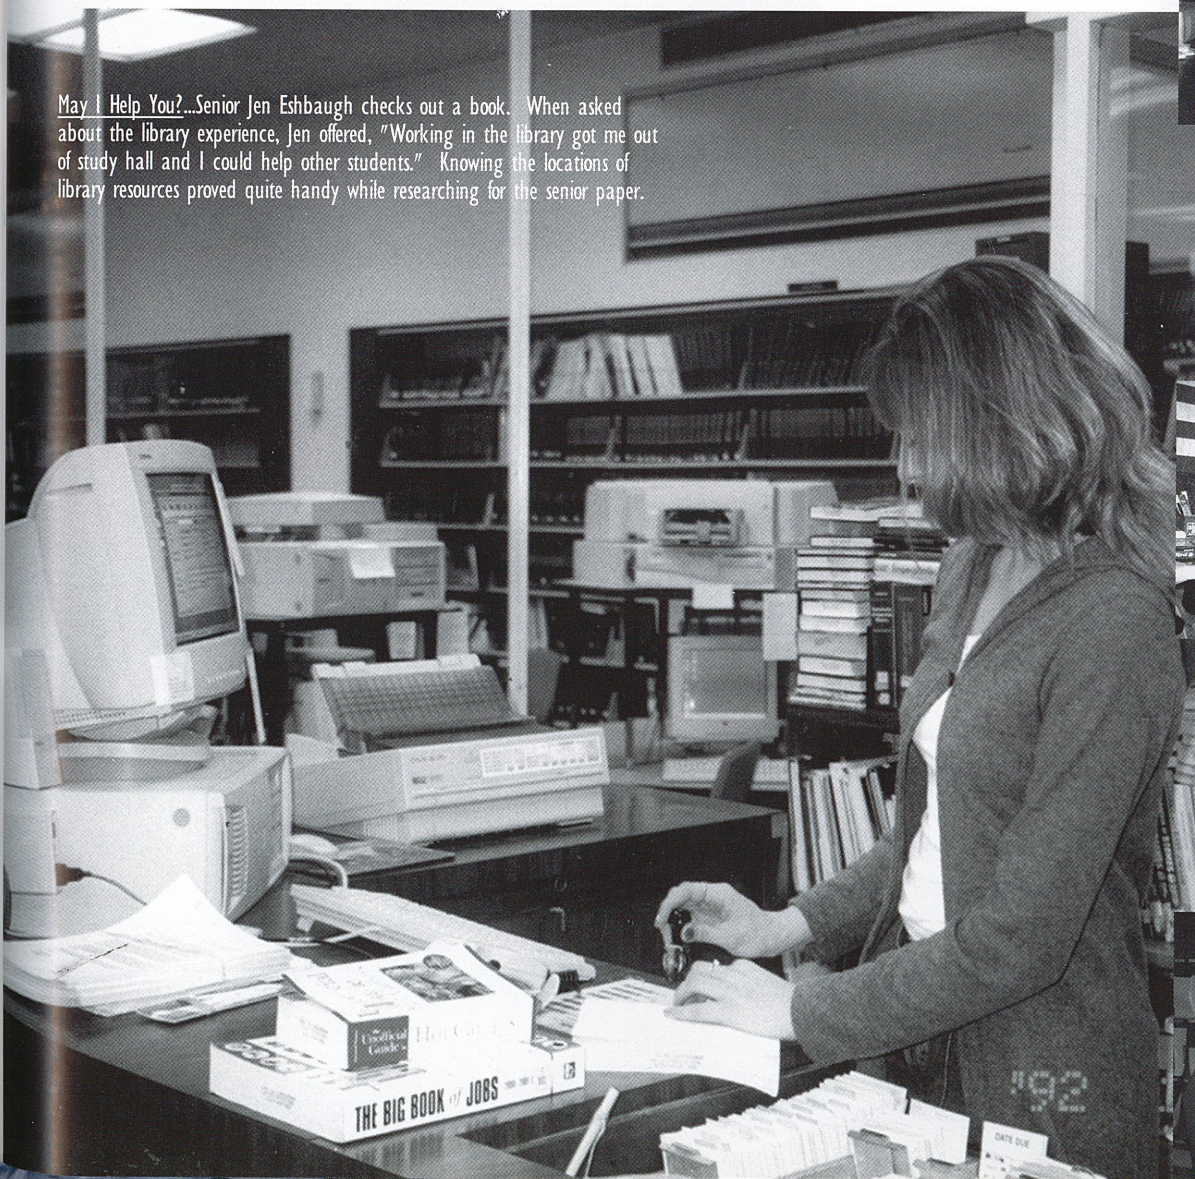

Most importantly, the library aides helped students sort through Dewey decimals and the computerized card catalogue. They taught first-time library users how to navigate the library database and find the most useful information for their assignments. The library aides told seniors how exactly to find EBSCO sources for their senior research papers, and how to sort through endless amounts of information to find the most beneficial articles. Mr. Ted Kulas, the school librarian, commented about how much he relied on the library aides, "I'd be lost without them." Any student who ever used the library would agree.

After a seemingly endless day of classes, the Kiski Area Ski Club headed for the slopes of Seven Springs, eagerly anticipating the snow-covered mountain. Upon arrival, the skiers first ventured to the locker room to suit up for the evening's activities. The time to ski had finally arrived.

The most popular slopes among the students included Stowe, Avalanche, and Goosebumps. The jump park also caught the attention of many snowboarders as well as skiers. "I received the most enjoyment from the snowboard park. I liked doing the rails and spinning big 360s over the table tops," remarked senior Ski Club member Mike Wagner.

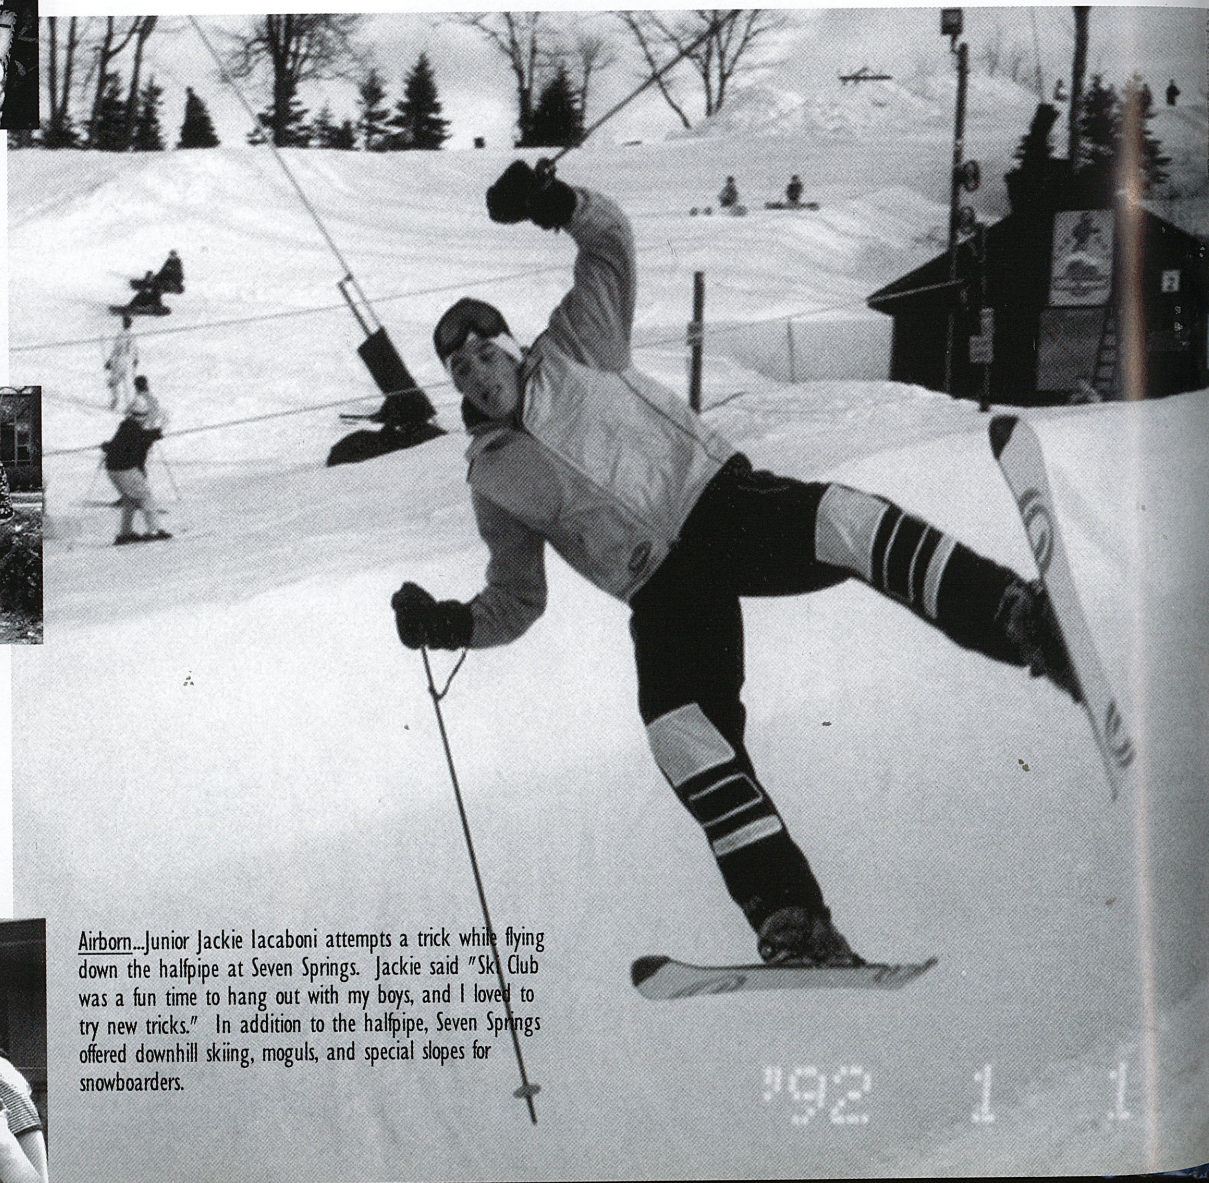

At 7:30 p.m., the students checked in at the lodge and grabbed a bite to eat. However, the warm indoors could not contain the skiers for long. When boredom arose, they caused mischief by dropping their poles off the lifts, scattering them up the slopes. Sometimes, the students resorted to falling all over the place just to cause a commotion.

Another night on the slopes of Seven Springs had come to an end. No matter what the conditions, the Kiski Area Ski Club enjoyed their evening in the winter wonderland.

On Monday, November 12, 2001, six members of the Kiski Area chapter of the National Honor Society helped local veterans put up and take down flags at the Allegheny Township community building. These flags lined the road up to the building in honor of Veterans' Day. Along with this event, the members of the NHS participated in many other service activities in the community such as the Meals on Wheels program.

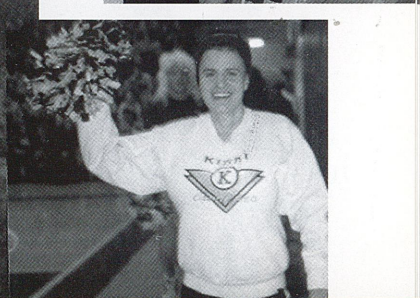

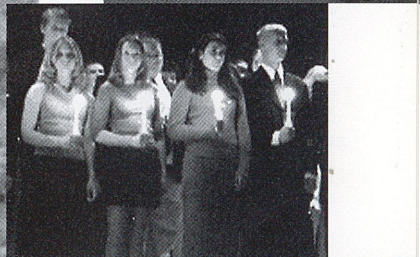

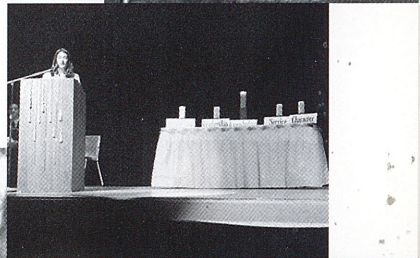

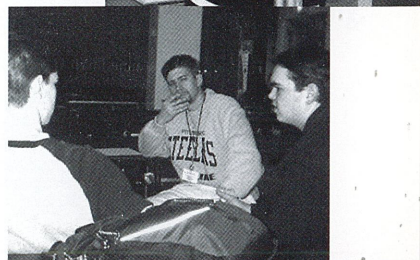

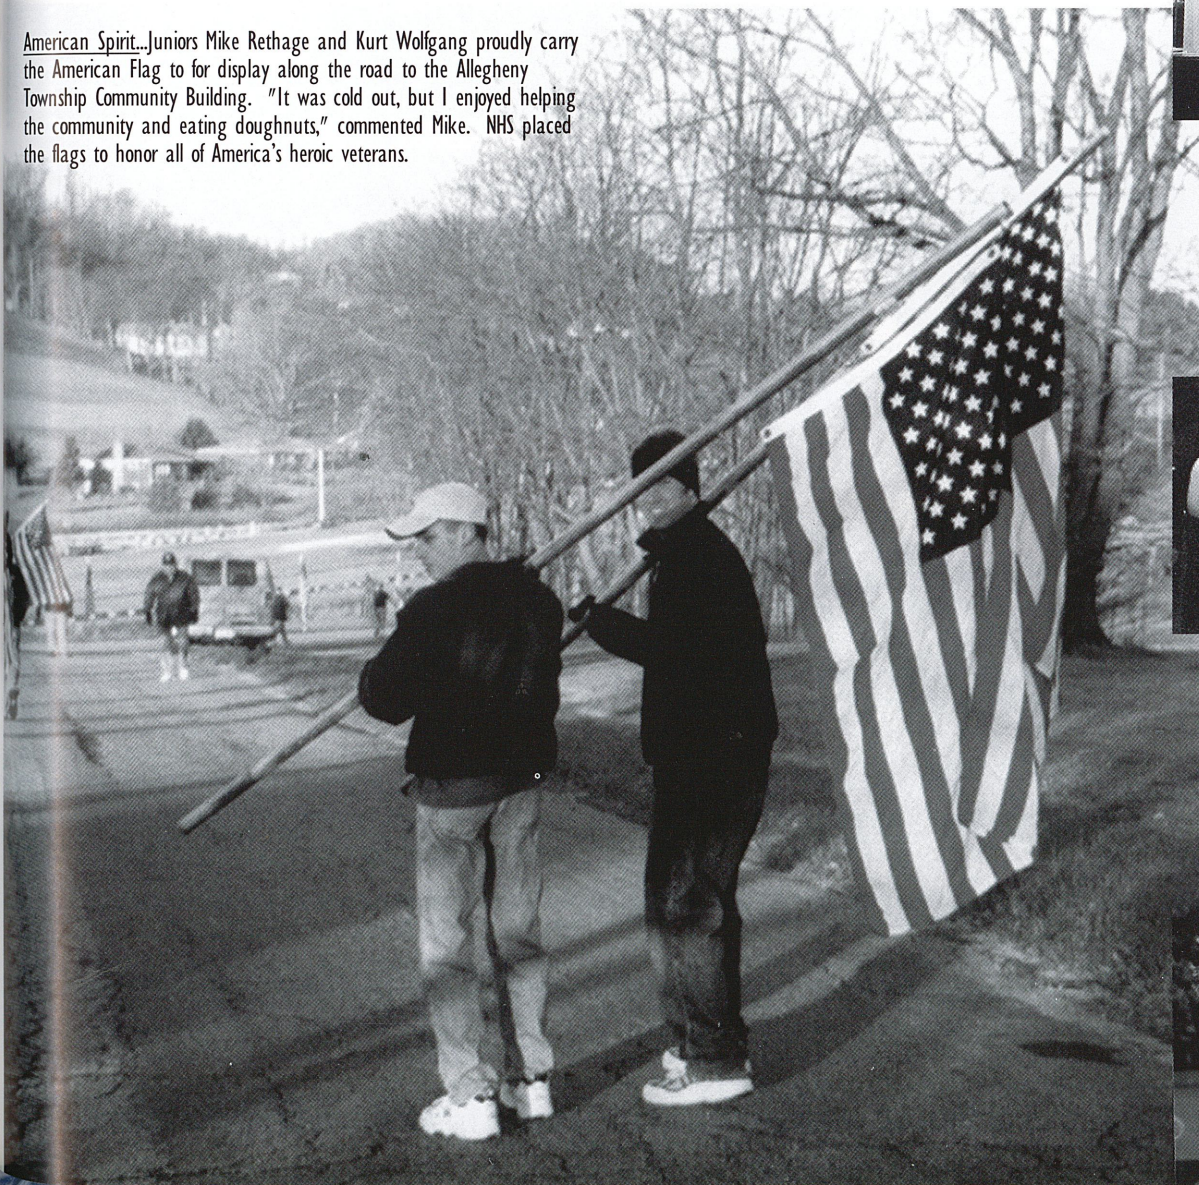

This event carried a special significance this year due to the events of September 11th and the ongoing war. The students' help did not go unnoticed and the veterans treated them to doughnuts after they had completed their task. This activity, along with the other service activities that the members of the NHS participated in gave members of the community a needed and much appreciated helping hand.

"It was cold out, but I enjoyed helping the community and eating doughnuts," commented Mike. NHS placed the flags to honor all of America's heroic veterans.

Every passing morning of this school year brought with it two constants: the first, unsurprisingly, a crowd of students ready to start their day off properly, and the second, a small band of announcers and technical staff ready to deliver information to the student body. This coalition, known on air as Good Morning Kiski, appeared live each morning without fail to announce any and all pertinent information students would need to make it through their day.

Even though this morning announcement program appeared live and uncut each morning, it could hardly divulge all the truths and trials going on behind the camera. From an editing staff to various station and staff managerial teams to anchors, crew, and cameramen, it took a great number of people to put together an efficient show every morning. The key to the best of presentations always consisted of keeping lines of communication open during broadcast.

However, those on camera put themselves on the line with each passing broadcast. The day's anchors always had to stay on their toes, ready for any malfunction, misspelling, or miscommunication to fall through the cracks of even the most well-versed teams. Consistently, though, the anchors and crew pulled together an effective and informative show daily. They would continue to make themselves responsible for bringing a good morning to Kiski Area each morning.

The members of the Environmental Club participated in many activities affecting the school. Aside from sponsoring a student-faculty hockey game, the Environmental Club added another new activity to their list this year; their recycling program blossomed.

In past years, recycling had never sprouted but the club President Dave Greenlee and Vice President Natalie Noble, both seniors, helped to make the new attempt work. Membership consisted of any student who wanted to improve all the environment of Kiski and its surrounding community. These dedicated members of the Environmental Club lugged huge, black trash bags from room to room and gathered the paper from recycling boxes during study halls or other free time. When piles of plastic bags filled room 407, Mr. Francis DeSantis, the sponsor of the Environmental Club, called on students with their driver's licenses to haul the paper to the recycling center.

The new activity provided less trash for the regular cans and a more sensible way to throw paper away. Mr. DeSantis commented, "The program seemed to work and that was good." The Environmental Club's recycling program succeeded in the contribution of many recyclable products.

Reaching Out...Mr. Dosch and Chris Kudrick battle for the ball. Chris commented, "Mr. Dosch was a tough player, and I admired him for his skill. But, in this play, I proved to be too much for him." Fans cheered for their favorites as the game ended in a 2-2 tie.

In the days following the September Eleventh tragedy, echoes of uncertainty resonated throughout the hallways of Kiski. Students and faculty alike worried for the safety of loved ones, and the weight of not knowing what would happen next bore down on everyone's chests. Although nervous anxiety riddled the hearts of many, few could think of where to turn for support.

The members of the Bible Club turned to their religion for comfort. On the Thursday following the attacks, they hosted a meeting at the high school's flagpole. Held before the start of the school day, the gathering allowed for students to console each other's emotions. Members of the Bible Club and nonmembers alike came together in an attempt to pray for reassurance and peace.

Students who attended the prayer at the flagpole could easily view a strong wave of patriotism. As the flag flew at half-mast, the group encircling the pole united their thoughts and prayers in memory of those who lost their lives in the September Eleventh hijackings. Senior Dan Shorthouse commented on the congregation surrounding the flagpole by stating, "I was glad to be in a group of people who were not afraid to share their faith with everyone else after 9-11."

Although the gathering dispersed as the bells rang for homeroom, the message behind it remained. In times of inner turmoil such as those after September Eleventh, the entire nation could benefit from taking time to reflect on what had happened, and to pray that such devastation would never befall the United States again.

As the holidays drew near, people began preparation for the hectic hustle and bustle that accompanied the festive season. Between the countless hours devoted to shopping and time spent decorating, few took time to reflect on the holiday's true meaning.

During this critical time for our nation, many people soared above and beyond their call of duty in order to better enrich the lives of others. Locally, the Kiski Area Student Council organized the annual telethon in hopes to reach out to those in need within our own communities. They donated all proceeds to the Salvation Army and a local food bank. Mrs. Susan Musselman, sponsor, noted, "After September 11 this year, we were thankful for the increased effort of all elementary schools, the intermediate school, and the high school, especially the student councils in each."

Featuring activities such as a class challenge, a bake sale, and a raffle, the telethon encouraged all students to participate in the activities it sponsored. Video footage aired nightly on television and online, giving various clubs and elementary schools the chance to tell more about themselves while raising donations. The 2001 Telethon continued in the path of success similarly to years past, as the entire district joined together to make someone's Christmas a little brighter.

Lending a Helping Hand...Senior Natalie Danko, and junior Gillian Friday take donations at K-mart to benefit the telethon and the local Salvation Army. Gillian offered, "I was glad I was able to help with this charity project." The telethon raised over $13,000.

These individuals volunteered their time to help the community and participated in a very active organization. The students in the Key Club cared. Consisting of only juniors and seniors, the Key Club welcomed their worthwhile activities and events.

Senior officers, President Ashley Klingensmith, Vice President Lindsey Smythe, Secretary Mike Wagner, and Treasurer Laura Pacuch, enjoyed the lunch with the Kiwanis. Under the guidance of their new sponsor, Mrs. Dianne Haney, the Key Club presented the Kiwanis with a summary of the events completed by the members. Membership of the Kiwanis included Dr. Stephen Vak, the Superintendent of Schools for Kiski as well as President of the Kiwanis. The Kiwanis, a higher level of membership, welcomed Kiski's Key Club and the college students who formed Circle K.

The officers enjoyed listening to the Kiwanis' meeting. President Ashley Klingensmith commented on the lunch, "The meeting went well and was really interesting. Lindsey, Mike, Laura, Mrs. Haney, and I witnessed the installation of officers into their positions. I thought the meeting was interesting and a good learning experience." The Key Club also met with the prestigious organization to celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Kiwanis in Vandergrift.

Dear Stephanie,

YOU ARE THE SUNSHINE OF MY LIFE. YOU HAVE GROWN UP TO BE A FINE YOUNG LADY. I'M SO PROUD OF YOU. YOU HAVE DONE SO WELL WITH EVERYTHING YOU HAVE ACCOMPLISHED. I'M SURE YOU WILL SUCCEED IN WHATEVER YOU CHOSE TO DO WITH THE REST OF YOUR LIFE. I'LL STAND BEHIND YOU EVERY STEP OF THE WAY. THE FUTURE IS YOURS! CONGRATULATIONS AND BEST WISHES!

LOVE ALWAYS, MOM

Chad...

WE WISH YOU NOTHING BUT THE BEST AS YOU VENTURE INTO THIS NEXT EXCITING CHAPTER OF YOUR LIFE. REMEMBER, NO MATTER WHAT YOU DO, OR WHERE YOU GO, YOU'LL ALWAYS BE OUR "LITTLE GOOB." WE LOVE YOU, MOM AND DAD

Meghan,

WORDS CANNOT EXPRESS OUR PRIDE IN YOU AND YOUR ACCOMPLISHMENTS. YOU ARE A BEAUTIFUL, CARING YOUNG LADY THAT HAS BROUGHT HAPPINESS TO THE MANY LIVES YOU HAVE TOUCHED. LIFE GOES FAST AND IS EVER CHANGING. DO NOT FEAR CHANGE, AS CHANGE GIVES YOU THE OPPORTUNITY TO SPREAD YOUR WINGS AND DISCOVER ALL YOU ARE CAPABLE OF BEING. ONE THING THAT YOU WILL NEVER CHANGE IS OUR LOVE AND SUPPORT FOR YOU. LOVE LIFE, BE HAPPY AND ALWAYS BELIEVE IN YOURSELF. YOU MAKE THIS WORLD A BETTER PLACE.

LOVE,
MOM, DAD, ZAC, AND JORDAN

Andrea,

WE ARE PROUD OF YOU AND WISH YOU SUCCESS AND HAPPINESS IN ALL YOU DO. CONGRATULATIONS! LOVE, MOM AND DAD

LOVE YOU MUCH!

Dad, Diane, Tyler, and Traci

Kristina,

WE REMEMBER THE FIRST TIME WE SAID "I LOVE YOU" TO YOUR FACE. YOU HAD JUST BEEN BORN AND WE THOUGHT YOU WERE THE MOST BEAUTIFUL THING ON EARTH. AND IN THAT LITTLE FACE OF YOURS, WE THOUGHT WE COULD SEE THE FUTURE...IT LOOKED BEAUTIFUL, TOO. NOW WE KNOW THAT WE'RE LIVING IN THAT FUTURE AND THAT IT'S VERY DIFFERENT THAN WE IMAGINED IT WOULD BE. IT HASN'T ALL BEEN BEAUTIFUL. SOME OF IT HAS BEEN SCARY AND PAINFUL...AND SAD.

BUT THROUGHOUT IT ALL, WE'VE WATCHED YOU GROW AND LIVE YOUR LIFE WITH JOY AND COURAGE AND HOPE. AND ALTHOUGH WE DON'T HAVE AS MUCH TIME TOGETHER AS WE DID WHEN YOU WERE LITTLE, WE CAN STILL LOOK INTO YOUR BEAUTIFUL FACE AND TELL YOU THE SAME THING WE TOLD YOU BACK BEFORE WE EVEN KNEW WHO YOU WERE...THE SAME THING WE WILL ALWAYS TELL YOU, WHATEVER THE FUTURE BRINGS...WE LOVE YOU!

The 2001-2002 Campus Yearbook staff chose "Pursuing Life After 40" to allow past Cavaliers to once again remember their own years at Kiski, while still recognizing the present Cavaliers and their accomplishments.

The 2002 Campus yearbook represented the 40th for Kiski Area High School, 200 Poplar Street, Vandergrift, PA 15690, telephone (724) 845-8181. The staff ordered 1075 books from Taylor Publishing Company, 1550 W. Mockingbird Lane, Dallas, TX 75235. This book employed a Smythe type binding with 80# enamel paper inside. The cover utilized Super Blue Dye #11 and also Black Dye #1. The yearbook staff utilized Elitevision, Taylor's premium yearbook creation program, to produce the book; the staff submitted all pages from the sports section forward digitally.

Additionally, Taylor chose this book to overrun as national samples - an honor bestowed to approximately 200 among thousands of organizations per year.

Larry Parker from Deglau - Portraits by Larry, 502 Main Street, Latrobe, PA 15650, telephone (724) 537-8211 provided all of the club, sports team, musical ensemble, and student panel pictures. As we draw a close to this year, our pursuit did not happen in vain. We have pulled the 2001-2002 school year and its contents together, along with the essences of years past, to create a record that will certainly span many lifetimes.

In pursuit of the last forty Kiski years, we have learned things about our school, our community, and ourselves that surpassed our wildest imaginations. We can only just imagine what lies ahead.

Our year, our students, and our school will continue to pursue higher hopes, better times, greater achievements, closer friendships, and wiser choices. We all have grown and will continue to grow even as Kiski High, and we ourselves, pursue life after forty.
